TRIO OF FLIERS ARGUE IN PLANE AND COME DOWN

ROGERS WONDERS THAT KATE FOGARTY DIDN'T SUE G.B.S.

(Special to The News)

DETROIT, May 24.—Everybody that I hear kicking about the Federal Reserve is someone trying to make money by speculation. So I about come to the conclusion that the Federal Reserve might accidentally be working in the interests of the hundred million who don't know a stock from a stock yard.

If 1 per cent raise in rate can upset the whole of Wall Street, then they are working on a mighty slim margin.

Yours,
WILL.

P. S.—If Kate Fogarty had sued Tunney's friend, Barnard Shaw, she would have gotten more publicity and the same money.

PA NEWC OBSERVES

New Castle should enjoy a safe and sane Fourth this year, with regard to fireworks. According to the city ordinance fireworks are under the ban in this city this year, and Mayor W. H. Gillespie, as head of the police force says that the law will be enforced to the letter, and that sale and use of fireworks in New Castle will not be allowed.

Pa Newc was rather surprised on Thursday evening while walking along Washington street to find a man standing in the center of the sidewalk talking through a telephone. Investigation showed that it was a phone attached to outside of a building for use of taxi drivers of a local company.

While the loop at Cascade Park is being constructed, and the park is open, the track is not yet in use, and the old plan of car operation to the park is in use. It is expected that the loop will be ready in a short time, before the park season gets into full season stride. It will be a fine improvement when placed in use.

Seems to Pa Newc that the number of immense buses going through New Castle is continually increasing. It would be interesting to know just How many lines are now routed through this city, and how many buses they are operating.

Walter McAnaney of the Central Fire Station force believes that if one is to be a fireman in the city of New Castle, he should effect fiery colors. As a consequence, he has painted his Ford sedan, vintage of 1916, a bright flaming red, and a most audible green. Fortunately there are few horses left in New Castle to take fright at the hysterical contraption. It will make its appearance on the street as soon as the paint has dried.

Visitors at the Cathedral this week have been impressed with the wonderful view that is now presented from the Cathedral roof. In every direction, the vendure is a bright green, punctured here and there by the roofs of homes. New business buildings recently built stand out imposingly in the downtown district.

A fall of .28 inches of rain during the early hours of this morning, has brought the total amount for the month to 7.40 inches, an increase.

Three Musketeers Argue In Flight, Plane Is Landed

ARGUMENT OCCURS OVER TORN FUSELAGE

All Three Occupants Of Plane Step Out Silently And Tell Their Stories

By FREDERICK K. ABBOT
International News Service Staff Correspondent

ROOSEVELT FIELD, N. Y., May 24.—When Alexander Dumas wrote his immortal story of the Three Musketeers, he described for posterity a band of men whose friendship nothing could shatter; who were, in truth—"All for one and one for all."

But apparently things are different in this day and age than in mediaeval times, for a modern prototype of this famous triumvirate has come to the parting of the ways after only a few days of existence.

Fliers In Dispute

Martin Jensen, Henry Clark and William Ulbrich, aviators, determined to relieve the United States Army of its title of holder of the world's refueling flight record. They banded together, called themselves "Three Musketeers" tacked a similar name on their Bellanca monoplane, and had their pictures taken, hands clasped together, eyes upraised in silent avowal of D'Artagnan's stirring pledge.

Then, after one false attempt, they started out Wednesday evening on the endurance flight. Twenty-three and one-half hours later, at 6 o'clock last evening, to be exact, the propellor of the great monoplane ceased its revolving and the machine swooped down out of the skies.

No trouble had been encountered with the plane—at least nothing of importance. But something had happened to the Three Musketeers themselves while their machine was circling hour after hour over Roosevelt field.

Fliers Are Silent

Slowly they stepped from the plane—Athos, Porthos and Aramis of the air—each one glum, moody and silent. There was no fervid handclasping, and for a little while, not even explanation for the descent.

Then one after another they told their stories. It seems the wind had ripped three small holes in the side of the fuselage. Opinions differed among the three as to the gravity of the affair. Conversation led to dis-

Texans' Plane Is Still Aloft

May Exceed World Record For Endurance—Up Now 120 Hours

REFUELED TWELVE TIMES IN FLIGHT

(International News Service)

FORT WORTH, Texas, May 24.—The "Fort Worth," piloted by two determined Texans, Reg Robbins and Jim Kelley, had been in the air 117½ hours at 9:03 a. m. today.

Fort Worth, Tex., May 24.—Refueled for the twelfth time, the civilian plane Forth Worth still circled overhead today with an excellent chance of beating the endurance record of 151 hours and forty minutes held by the army's Question Mark.

At 5:33 o'clock this morning the ship, with Pilot Reg L. Robbins and his mechanic, James Kelly, had been in the air 114 hours. The fliers continued to signal to their ground crew that all was well and that the single-motored rebuilt Ryan monoplane was keeping up its smooth performance.

Notes Are Dropped

At intervals the monoplane swung low over the airport, her motor humming steadily, and notes were dropped reassuring those on the ground that prospects for a record were bright, and that Robbins and Kelly were standing the grind in fine shape.

Slowly edging toward victory the Fort Worth passed the record of the Report Mother Cat Caring For Chicks

There is a good old fashioned black and white house cat at the home of Steve Durlesser at Coaltown, Neshannock township, who has recently added to her laurels, by undertaking to raise chickens as well as kittens and at the present time, her family consist of one kitten and two small chickens, which are now approaching a pound in weight.

This unique family gets along in fine shape, the kitten and chickens getting along fine together, playing and feeding together and at night the chickens either sit on top of their foster mother or as close as they can and sleep peacefully all through the night.

It appears that about two months ago, a hen belonging to Durlessers hatched out a flock of peeps. There were four not as strong as the others and they were forced out from in under the protecting wing of the mother hen and were not doing a bit well.

The mother cat had her one kitten and this apparently caused her to take a motherly interest in the almost motherless and sickly peeps. They took to her mothering in a kindly spirit and began to improve at once. Two were put back with the hen when they became stronger but the others were allowed to remain with the cat. Mother Pussy is very proud of her unique family and hastens to their protection on the least provocation.

Governor Bilbo Of Mississippi Orders National Guards On Duty

ENGINEERS BELIEVE LEVEE WILL HOLD

(International News Service)

MEMPHIS, Tenn., May 24.—Fearing the Mississippi levee at Mound's Landing, Miss., may crumple at any moment, Governor Theo G. Bilbo, Mississippi, today ordered National Guardsmen be held in readiness in event of a flood. He requested 400 tents and 3,200 blankets be shipped from Fort McPherson to the danger zone.

Meanwhile government engineers supervising the work of reinforcing the barriers, reiterated their belief the levee will hold.

Mound's Landing is where the Mississippi broke from its course two years ago, flooding thousands of acres and the city of Greenville, Miss 18 miles away.

Church Is Burned Near Pittsburgh

Rennerdale Presbyterian Church In Ruins After Conflagration

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, May 24.—Fire, of undetermined origin, today had left the Rennerdale Presbyterian church a ruin. Discovered in the belfry late last night, the fire had virtually destroyed the frame building by the time firemen from East Carnegie, Carnegie, Scott township, Oakdale and Glendale answered alarms.

After a four-hour battle the flames apparently had been subdued but shortly after the fire brigades left the blaze broke out again and burned through the roof and destroyed the interior.

No one had been known to be in the church since Sunday services, according to Rev. J. W. Miller, pastor.

Ronald Broadbeck of Mt. Jackson, has been removed to the Shenango Valley hospital for medical treatment.

Proclamation

TO THE CITIZENS OF NEW CASTLE:

I, Wm. H. Gillespie, Mayor of the City of New Castle, do hereby proclaim and set aside Saturday, May 25th, 1929, as "BUDDY POPPY DAY", under the auspices of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

The thought of the "POPPY" always brings back to us the memory of those who gave their lives and those who, in hospitals and at home, are still giving their all.

The fact that the manufacture of these "POPPIES" gives employment to disabled veterans in hospitals and elsewhere, and that the proceeds from the sales is used in relieving suffering in this locality, places a clearly defined duty on every citizen to heartily support this sale.

I, therefore, urge each and every citizen to give freely and liberally that our trust be not violated.

Respectfully yours,
WM. H. GILLESPIE,
Mayor.

Jury's Murder Conviction Of Six Year Old Youngster Astonishes New Yorkers

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, May 24.—Amazement was expressed here today by judges, sociologists and criminologists that anywhere in the United States a jury could be obtained which would convict a six-year old boy of manslaughter, as has just happened in Kentucky.

The boy, Carl Mahan, was found guilty of manslaughter at Paintsville, Ky., by a jury of twelve farmers and coal miners, and sent to the Kentucky State reform school until he is twenty-one years old. He killed Cecil VanHoose, his eight-year-old playmate last Saturday.

Carl and Cecil were seeking scrap iron to sell and Carl found a prize piece of iron. Cecil, according to Carl's story, tried to take it away from him and succeeded. Then the younger boy it is charged went to his home, got his father's shotgun and went back and shot his playmate.

No, Answers New York

Could this boy, of the kindergarten age, have realized the enormity of the offense? Does society demand of such a child the same penalty and criminal branding that would be given to a fully developed adult?

"No!" is the emphatic answer from New York, where officials generally expressed astonishment at the verdict.

"It is inconceivable that a six-year old child could be treated in this manner anywhere in our great civilized nation," declared George R. Worthington, a member of the police department's newly appointed crime commission. "Under the law a boy is an infant until seven years of age. The verdict should shock the conscience of most people."

Senator Benjamin Antin, member of the New York Welfare Commission said the boy "should never have been handled as a common criminal

Graf Zeppelin Is Back In Germany

Huge Airship Reaches Hangar At Friedrichshafen Germany Early Today

DAMAGED MOTORS ARE REPLACED

(International News Service)

FRIEDRICHSHAFEN, May 24.—After a flight which the passengers described as nothing other than a "joy ride", the giant German dirigible Graf Zeppelin arrived here at 5:09 this morning from Cuers Pierrefeu, France.

No untoward incident marred the voyage, which was made under the command of Dr. Hugo Eckener.

The Zeppelin arrived over the hangar here shortly after 3:30, but it was an hour and a half before the ground crew was entirely assembled and complete arrangements made for the landing. The great ship was brought down to earth without any difficulty whatever and safely lodged in her shed.

The Graf Zeppelin came on from Cuers, where she had made an emergency landing after battling for hours with adverse winds on the outward journey. Four of her five motors were running on the trip from Cuers.

Dr. Eckener said it would be several days before any plans for the flight of the Zeppelin over the Atlantic could be announced.

Body Of Slain Man Found Near Enon Highway

Discovery Is Made By Joseph McKim On Mt. Jackson Road At Early Hour

PAPERS GIVE NAME OF CHAS. D. YAUCH

Believed To Be Of Youngstown—Bullet Found To Have Entered Near Heart

Shot near the heart and left lying on the Mt. Jackson-Enon road near the Deringer blacksmith shop, the body of a man aged about 35, believed to be Charles D. Yauch, of Youngstown, O., was found by Joseph McKim of R. D. 1, New Galilee, about 2 o'clock this morning. Beside the man was a Buick touring car, bearing Ohio license number 891-031.

Mr. McKim was going from New Castle to his home when he passed a car on the left hand side of the road, partly on the concrete and partly on the earth. Near the front left wheel of the car he saw a man lying. Stopping his car and getting out he came back to investigate. He found that the man was apparently dead, but he did not determine from what cause.

Thought Hit-Run Case.

Believing that the man had met death as the result of an automobile accident, Mr. McKim drove to Mt. Jackson where he notified Constable W. O. Pitts. On the theory that it was a hit-and-run driver case Constable Pitts came to the Colonial hotel in this city and notified State Highway Patrolman, C. C. McDermott. Mr. Pitts also called Coroner J. P. Caldwell who directed that the officers secure an ambulance. One was secured and the trip made to the scene of the tragedy.

Arriving there it was found that the man had not been killed by an automobile, but that he had evidently been murdered. There was a bullet hole a little above his heart. There was no sign of any weapon either in or about the car. The body was still warm. It is believed that death had occurred around midnight.

The touring car was facing toward New Castle. It was about half-way over on the edge of the concrete, from the earth. The body was lying, face upward, near the left front wheel. The legs were partly crumpled under the car. The man's hat was missing but it was found in the car.

Old Car.

The car was an old Buick touring, with the left running board torn off, the front fender dinged and the front bumper bent. It looked as though the car had been in an accident, but upon closer examination it was found that the running board had evidently been broken off for some time, and that the dinge in the fender was likely of long standing. In the rear seat of the car were two old tires, an auto wheel rim, and a piece of a board, that

Schwab Asserts Steel Industry Now Prosperous

Steel Industry Enjoying Greatest Period Of Prosperity In Years

DEMAND DECLARED BEST IN HISTORY

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 24.—Charles M. Schwab, chairman of the Bethlehem Steel corporation and president of the American Iron & Steel Institute, declared at a meeting of the institute at Hotel Commodore today that the steel industry "is enjoying its greatest peace-time prosperity" with demand the best in its history.

The steel industry long has been regarded as one of the barometers of business in America. Mr. Schwab, however, warned the assembled steel men against being led astray through current prosperity.

"I am sure," said Mr. Schwab in discussing the excellent condition of the industry, "that it is equally gratifying to every member of this institute to know that as our stockholders become better fortified, the maintenance of better wages and living standards for our workers is also assured."

Farrell is Speaker.

James A. Farrell, president of the United States Steel corporation, was another speaker. He said there was no abatement in the demand for iron and steel products. A year ago there was apparently an over-capacity of about 10,000,000 tons. That has been absorbed, he stated, and now there is an insufficient supply of raw materials to meet the demand in some instances.

Schwab opened the meeting by pledging President Herbert Hoover the support and cooperation of the steel industry. He said he felt that the country is "singularly fortunate" in having a chief executive of Mr. Hoover's type "under whose leadership I am sure nothing will be done to disturb the sound business structure upon which our present prosperity is founded."

A. There is also a member from the Chamber of Commerce and one from the public at large. The latter representative is Mrs. Grace Phillips Johnson.

According to the plan of the chest, there can be two representatives from the public which will be selected by the board of directors. At the present time, however, there is but the one member.

Believe Better Plan

All of the old members of the board of directors resigned some time ago in order that this new method of representation could be made possible. It was the concensus of opinion in the directory board that should the directors be chosen by the member organizations themselves, that a better standard of working might be reached.

The meeting of the new officers and members of the board will occur Monday evening in the Chamber of Commerce headquarters in the Greer building.

At this time, the new president will outline the work for the coming months before the directory board and the organization will officially begin under the jurisdiction of the new group of directors.

or as an adult responsible for his acts."

The Rev. Christian F. Riesner, prominent in social welfare work, expressed surprise at the verdict, adding:

"If I believe in God, I must believe that a six year old boy is innocent. The boy must be a mental defective and should be treated as such. What the child needs is correction and not a reformatory. He needs kindly supervision."

Miss Jane Hoey, a member of Police Commissioner Grover Whalen's crime commission, said the verdict was "almost unbelievable." She declared that no child of six is responsible for his actions and never should have been tried for a criminal offense.

"To us in New York state this is shocking," was the statement of Presiding Judge Franklin Chase Moyt, of the Children's Court. "It is contrary to the spirit and letter of our laws."

Chicago Shocked

Chicago, May 24.—Shocked condemnation of the 15-year sentence imposed on the 6-year-old Kentucky boy, Carl Newton Mahan for killing his playmate was voiced here today in judicial and social circles and by those dealing in child welfare problems.

Judge Mary Bartelme of the Cook County Juvenile Court said: "Any judge who would send a 6-year-old child to a criminal institution—no matter what he had done—is himself a criminal. "I can't imagine any judge giving such a sentence. I would think that every citizen of the State of Kentucky would rise up and demand that the state law which would permit a court to do this be changed at once.

'It is reverting to barbarism. There can be but one future for this child after fifteen years' association with criminals—and that is a life of crime."

Pa Newc wonders just how long a railroad train should hold one up at the crossings. Throughout the past few months one member of the Pa Newc finds the same shifter in his path every morning and it gets on the nerves after about six months.

County farmers report oats sowed. The ground, that is in some places, was hurriedly plowed and harrowed, and because of the wetness the seed was broadcasted. A lot of oats were sown just this way in the past two days.

Children may be a blessing in the home, but at a public place they are sometimes just a little off color. Young Pa Newc attended a little performance last night and the actors and actresses' lines were lost in the babble which issued from the lips of a half dozen lusty-throated two-year-olds who apparently were encouraged by proud young mothers.

Rumor hath it to the ears of the column that there is a little lady some two years old in Bessemer who can rattle off the A, B, C's, count, recite poetry, sing and do a host of things which hustle the average urchin of six to comprehend.

A prominent resident of the first ward drew attention Thursday of Pa Newc to the fact that the first ward, one of the largest in the city, is without a school house in its limits at the present time. He suggests that the school district should obtain the about to be abandoned Shenango Valley hospital building, to be remodeled at a moderate expense when needed for school purposes in that section of the city. In his opinion it would provide a fine location for school children of the ward.

The heavy rain this morning and intermingled showers during the forenoon seemed to dampen the ardor of street walkers. Streets down town were sparsely populated and traffic was not heavy.

Pa Newc saw a young man in a car jump the red light at Mercer and North before noon and just come within a few inches of hitting a little girl. Had there been an accident, Pa Newc would have been an enthusiastic witness in that particular case.

Clark, after the landing, said that he favored suspension of the flight, as he was worried about the rips.

Jensen contended they could have been repaired in flight by anyone having "courage enough to lean out of the window."

Ulbrich said little, but tried to patch up the differences.

Conferences over the affair lasted until late last night, long after the damage had been repaired. When they were all over, Jensen said the flight would be attempted again today, with the same plane and the same crew—but with certain reservations.

Principal among them was Jensen's assertion that he would be the "chief," and that Clark would be along "merely as one of my pilots."

Probe Robbery In Croton Home

Report Harding Street Home Is Entered By Burglar This Morning

A call was received about 3 o'clock this morning from the home of C. O. Polen, 301 Harding street, stating that a man had been in the house and some money had been taken.

Officer Thompson answered the call and found that entrance had been effected by the use of a skeleton key on the rear door.

According to the story told Officer Thompson, Polen is manager of a Butler store on Croton avenue and when he went home had taken some of the store money with him.

Shortly before 2 o'clock his wife, who was sleeping downstairs, was awakened by some one in the room.

When the man saw that the person in bed was awake he said "Give me the money you brought home with you," evidently believing that it was Mr. Polen. Mrs. Polen screamed and as she did so the man reached under her pillow and took her pocketbook containing about $15 and made a hurried exit.

Police are continuing their investigation.

STAR LORE

NIGHT AT THE SOUTH POLE

By Arthur DeV. Carpenter

When we have long summer days in northern latitudes, the sun is far to the north of the equator. The moon traverses the sun's entire annual path around the ecliptic in 27½ days. When the moon is near the sun it is a crescent or dark moon; as it swings away from the sun in summer, it goes far south of the equator and becomes full moon. South Pole regions have the advantage of this. Therefore, Commander Byrd's expedition, with continuous night during our summer, will have two weeks each month of gorgeous winter moonlight to dissipate the Antarctic gloom.

TO VIEW US THROUGH FOREIGN GLASSES

ELEVEN prominent journalists representing important newspapers in eight of the countries of Europe are visiting the United States for the purpose of gaining first hand views of our people and of our ways and customs we are informed. They come as the guests of the Carnegie Endowment for Universal Peace with the hope that mutual knowledge between the peoples of the world may suggest practical methods for ending wars.

Those who are back of this method have the feeling that the average tourists "fail to discover the real pulse of a nation, and in returning to their native lands spread erroneous reports." It is said, for instance, that the ordinary American travelling abroad goes only where there are American backgrounds, and does not enter into the actual life of the natives of the European nations. There is more than a modicum of truth in this, although much depends upon the individual and his point of view. It might be said that our distinguished visitors with only a few months of travelling can hardly obtain the right view of this great country. It is so big that the man in Maine does not always understand the man in California. The journalists who are now with us have the advantage of being trained observers, and they come disposed to look us over impartially. This has not always been the case as we long ago discovered by reading of the "travels" of some foreign writers.

One of the most significant phases of the tour now in progress is the fact that all of the men are enthusiastic in their praise of Herbert Hoover. They know him and they are aware that he has a first hand knowledge of Europe. Few of our statesmen have been so highly respected abroad, and that ought to be a factor in the movement for universal peace. It has been said more than once that President Hoover is "internationally minded." This does not mean that his Americanism is diluted, but rather that he is all the better fitted to handle our perplexing international relations, which, whether we like it or not, are becoming increasingly important.

INCREASING EMPLOYMENT

WHILE political controversialists still seek to confuse each other with home-made statistics on unemployment, state and federal agencies report a steady increase in the volume of employment. According to these agencies, which alone are equipped to gather the figures, there has been a steady decrease in unemployment, and the demand for labor is of a character that is expected to increase.

Automobile and allied industries report a demand for additional workers. Business and consequently the rate of employment, has improved in the steel and iron industry. The building trades have been organizing their working forces for the spring and summer peak. All outdoor activities are in the market for men. In some fields there is a shortage of skilled labor.

The flow of labor is dependent to a large extent upon weather conditions. Seasonal labor, for which there is the greatest demand in spring, summer and fall, cannot hope to be absorbed in the winter months until the nation's industrial system has been drastically reorganized. Unskilled workers of this class find it hard to fit into a system that puts a premium upon skilled labor. The revival of construction and the needs of agriculture summon such men during only a part of the year. For the next six months at least the nation's employment worries will be smaller.

BE BRIEF

THE world is in a hurry: please be brief.

Poor terminal facilities for authors and speakers often nullify all their excellent wisdom. A man may possess all kinds of useful knowledge, but fail in "discerning when to have done."

Brevity is the touch stone of success in any field. You may offend your customer, your reader or your hearer in one respect and please him in another. But if you tire him with your tediousness, you lose him altogether.

The newspaper leads the style today in pith and cogency and has educated the public to the expectation of receiving much in little. The well-executed cartoon will impart a whole philosophy of life at a glance, or provide silent comment on current events worth a column of words.

Brevity is the soul of wit. Yet they who have wit, or think they have, are in especial danger of saying too much. Some one has said: "It is better to say nothing and be thought a fool than to open the mouth and dispel all doubt."

Be brief!

ON BEING SUCCESSFUL

MEN and women who sow the seed of constant useful activity reap the harvest of success from a soil fertilized by their own steady purpose. It would be as foolish to expect success without exertion as to gather a crop before you plant the seed. But in cultivating that character which reaps true achievement you may sow in all seasons and gather the fruits with the serene assurance that even wind and weather—storm and stress—are a part of the process of personal growth.

Optimism is an ally of effort and success. It is the kernel of the nut, not the shell. It is the fine trait of the man, not the faults. It is the flowers on the hillside, not the dead leaves under the snow. It is the opportunity in any job, not the grind. It is up to the individual whether his world will be golden or drab. Optimism in a word is the eye of the soul. It is the color in the vision revealing the fine beyond the coarse, the best beyond the worst.

A man can be happy without a home if he is only staying away from one.

Only a Baby Panic.

Wonderful Lloyd George.

To Protect Policemen.

By ARTHUR G. BRISBANE
(Copyright, 1929, King Features Syn., Inc.)

Congratulations to the Federal Reserve. That institution, established to stabilize credit and prevent panics, succeeded in creating a baby panic in Wall street Wednesday, knocking down prices of good stocks and bad stocks—especially good.

A lamb usually sells his good stocks to protect his bad stocks.

The Federal Reserve Advisory Council recommended an increase in rediscount rates.

Fifteen and 20 per cent usury doesn't satisfy some financial gentlemen. It seems plenty to those who pay it.

Wall street heard the news and prices slumped. If the Federal Reserve had been established to make money expensive, and credit uncertain, and to injure business, it would be a success.

On Tuesday an Army plane circled over Governor's Island, flew up Broadway above Manhattan's richest district, theoretically "bombed New York" and escaped to Washington.

Anti-aircraft defenses knew the attack was coming, but nobody saw the bombing plane. Anti-aircraft guns were theoretically and actually useless.

If it had been a real attack there would have been 50 bombing planes instead of one, and the planes would not have "escaped to Washington" as was theoretically done on Tuesday.

They would have flown from New York to a mother ship, 100 or 200 miles off shore, taking on a new load of bombs, and then going to bomb Washington, and, with poison gas, wipe out every public official from the Capitol to the White House.

If our defenses cannot even locate and theoretically repel one bombing plane, after having been warned in advance of its coming, what chance would our big cities have against bombing planes and swift pursuit planes launched unexpectedly from ships off shore?

Wonderful Lloyd George. He fights the Tories as though he had never managed a World War or been subject to any strain.

In the unpronounceable town of Penmaenmawr, Lloyd George told a crowd of Welshmen and Englishmen, "I would condemn Winston Churchill for a whole month to push a perambulator along a road without any footpaths."

Lloyd George would put unemployed Britishers to work improving old roads, building new roads, and establishing footpaths for women with baby carriages.

Winston Churchill, chancellor of the exchequer, rides in an automobile, doesn't notice baby carriages, and calls Lloyd George's plan "extravagant waste."

New York, according to its able police commissioner, Mr. Whalen, possesses 32,000 speakeasies, and 18,000 policemen to regulate the speakeasies.

Commissioner Whalen now appoints 160 policemen as supervisors to make sure that the remaining 17,840 policemen keep out of the 32,000 speakeasies—as customers.

Just how 160 men can keep 17,840 men from dropping into any one of 32,000 retail rum stores, is not clear, but Mr. Whalen's ideas are usually good.

In the old days, New York had 6,000 saloons and 8,000 policemen, one saloon to one policeman, and about the same number of school teachers.

Now it has about two speakeasies for each policeman!

There is a difference between prohibition and preventing.

Dr. Cooper, federal commissioner of education, tells the Association for Adult Education that the United States voters "have an average education of sixth or seventh grade levels." He recommends further expansion of adult education.

What citizens lack is not education, but interest in their government. Lack of interest is proved by the vote of only 50 in 100 that could vote.

A little more "fractions, algebra and geography" won't help voters to solve the problems of our increasingly social and economic life.

At the beginning of his term, President Hoover, in accordance with custom, received all visitors to the White House, Tom, Dick and Harry, on three days each week, then wisely cut public receptions to two days a week. Now receptions are reduced to one day a week, Wednesday.

Another improvement would eliminate public receptions entirely. The President is not elected to be a curiosity, shaking hands, but to attend to public business.

The public should content to study and know the President in the things that he accomplishes.

Virginia Hogan, 12-year-old Irish-American girl from Omaha, wins the national spelling bee, and this will surprise you. Teru Hayashi, a Japanese boy, was No. 3 in the competition. "Panacea" eliminated him.

Innoculate a dog with rabies and the law will hold you responsible when it kills somebody. When a drunk man kills, what of the man who sold the whisky?

Lots of people think they are tolerant just because they don't give a darn about anybody but themselves.

Some go-getter might do well in Hollywood with a mate-of-the-month club.

Hints and Dints

Sun sets tonight 7:17. Sun rises tomorrow 4:37.

The secret of being loved is being lovely, and the secret of being lovely is being unselfish.

The great trouble with a lot of birds is that they do not understand a lot of things and cannot even understand them after they are explained to them.

Blessed are the poor. The short car rests in safety while the passing fool clips the tail light from the long one beside it.

A lady in New York is suing a taxicab company for fifteen thousand dollars damages because she was hurt in an accident the cab got her into. She claims injury to her thyrod and pituitary glands and this injury has caused her weight to increase from 150 to 290 pounds and it will increase more right along. Oh, mercy! also assistance and succor! And everything else!

A physician, well known hereabouts, was recently called to see a lady who was reported to be suffering with terrible pain. The physician hastened to the residence of the lady and found her in bed. He felt her pulse, looked at her tongue and commenced writing a prescription. She said to him: "Doctor, I don't think you understand my case." "Oh, yes, I do, said he, "I understand it very well." After a little while the lady remarked to him again: "Doctor, I don't think you know what's the matter with me; that you understand my condition." The Doctor replied: "Oh, yes I do, madam; I have a patient up town, a young man, just in your fix, suffering with the same disease." An hour afterwards the lady gave birth to a ten-pound boy. How the young man got along our information did not say. —Sun Juan Times.

No man is consistent so long as he will not do himself what he thinks others should do in the general affairs of life.

It may be true that an automobile is within the reach of every man, but frequently it is not only in reach, but also on top of him.

Ignorance is not so much bliss as forgetfulness is.

Dear Doctor Hints and Dints: I call you doctor, because you are good for all ills. But what I want to tell you about concerns a young couple who were saying good night on the doorstep of a University avenue home the other evening. Suddenly the door opened and Dad appeared:

"My dear sir," he said, "I have no objection to your coming here and sitting up half the night with my daughter, nor even your standing on the doorstep for two hours saying good night, but, out of consideration for the rest of the household who wish to go to sleep, will you kindly take your elbow off the bell-push?"

HELPER.

More New Castleites would be thrifty if they could find some manner of being that way without going without things they want.

EVER NOTICE THIS?

It is with narrow-souled people as with narrow-necked bottles, the less they have in them the more noise they make in pouring it out.—Pope.

The new crime commission appointed by President Hoover contains only men and women who have not been wet and dry leaders. The president evidently had in mind a commission made up of fanatics on both sides of that question. It would also never do to let it altogether to those who can take a drink or leave it alone. That commission has a job on it's hands just the same. Crime seems to be the chief industry in this country and the jails and penitentaries and their contents are the evidence.

A colored preacher in Chicago had to call the police to make the members of his congregation quit praying. It developed in the affair that the preacher was not popular and the congregation was just praying to keep the church building from the preacher. It's pretty hard matter to get even the police to stop people from praying and the congregation knew that when trying to hold the church.

He used to take you out to the suburb to show you his new home, but now he takes you to the curb to show you his new car.

The chief difference between a man and a woman is that if a man went around showing the full length of his socks they'd put him into the booby hatch.

In looking backwards o'er the years
With all their smiles and all their tears,
I cannot and I will not say
That I again would pass this way.

It is said that the United States senate may have to adjourn when the weather gets hot because there is no cooling system in the senate building. We would suggest turning the hose on some of these babies who [illegible] to be het up on some subject all the time. We notice some of the [illegible] raving about trust owned newspapers just now and we are betting they will drop it before any good can be done about it.

WHY WEAR OUT GREAT MEN TO PLEASE HICKS?

Because the American people are subjects at heart, and in spirit are brothers of that ghastly knave who boasted that he had kissed a dead queen, our Presidents must endure martyrdom to please hick vanity. Mr. Hoover, wisely following the Roosevelt example, has developed a quick handshake that "beats them to the punch." He grips an extended hand, squeezes it quickly, and drops it. Even so, he suffers. One day last week he shook hands with 1,957 people. That required more effort than a day's plowing. Next day his hand and forearm were so sore he could not write. Shaking hands is playing politics. Senators and Representatives, appealed to by constituents of some importance, write letters that entitle the bearer to meet the President. Hicks prize this privilege and boast of it when they get back home. The President endures the torture because it is customary and to violate the custom might cost him much prestige. It is a silly custom, consuming much of the President's time and energy, and should be ended. What would become of our great industrial organizations if the man at the top of each had to spend five hours a day shaking hands with hick customers? As a nation we need to grow up, cultivate a little dignity, and quit falling on our faces when a hero goes by.

One needs some vanity in this world but he doesn't need to show it.

We read of a real old-fashioned woman in California who killed her husband by putting poison in his coffee. Most men have always considered this a very cowardly way of killing a husband. That's the reason shooting a husband has been so popular of late years.

This morning a father talked to me about his boy—a normal lad of sixteen who feels his oats. The father realizes his boy is too old to be whipped and yet at times feels a great urge to knock him slantwise. "You know how it is," said he, "he's just at the age when he thinks he knows it all and thinks of nothing but himself." You bet I know. I was that way. So, this father confessed, was he. All youngsters of sixteen feel very grown up and resent being treated as immature dependents. They take their food and clothes and spending money as a matter of course, feeling entitled to all they can get and more, but they feel no obligation to obey or render any service or think of anybody's convenience except their own. They are supremely and wholly selfish; they are impudent without realizing it. And at times their swell-head is almost unbearable. But a wise parent will handle them patiently, for they are children still, without common sense of judgment, and their feeling of independence and cock-sureness will drive them into some folly that will spoil their lives in they are handled wrong. It is at this period that boys run away and miss an education; that girls marry some wart they later despise. Parents should trust Nature. She takes the folly out of a young fool in a couple of years.

Under no form of government can men be as free as they like.

Parking space: A vacant lot half way between home and the office.

Some day the Rosena dam will have to be taken out as there will be so many bridges between Jefferson street and North street there will be no room for the dam. The bridges will be right alongside each other if some have their way. A few more piers and the business houses will have to move into the hills to escape being flooded out. Some day there will be a river where North street now is if obstructions continue to be placed in the Neshannock.

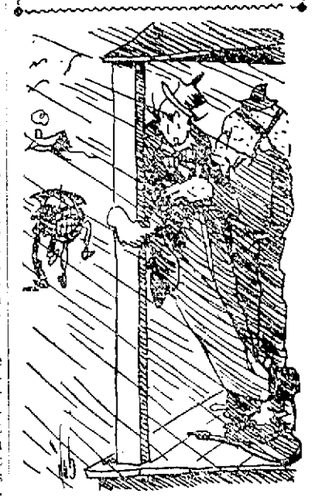

New Castle women learn to swim sooner than the men because the men have to teach themselves.

The reason you haven't got the other fellows job is because you rattle around in the one you have.

Th' boys who went courtin' twenty years ago had it a lot easier than th' boys o' today—it was a cinch then t' tell th' youngsters from th' old ones.

Ther seems to be somthin' about bein' a good, dutiful husband that causes him to toe in.

I think the crime wave is holdin' out wonderfully well considerin' it has no speakers or banquets.

Cleveland's Hospital Horror Warning Against Poison Gas

Greater Safeguards Demanded In Peacetime Use Of Deadly Stuff While Awful Possibilities In War Are Contemplated

Lessons from the Cleveland hospital horror in which patients were killed and tortured by deadly gas accidentally released are studied grimly by the press with the thought, as expressed by the CINCINNATI TIMES-STAR, that "out of such agonies and ordeals our methods of safety have been evolved." Many observers see a ghastly reminder of the possibilities of poison gas as an instrument of war.

"Read in the tortured faces of the victims of the disaster a warning that war must cease or the world will be left to the nomads of the desert, and to the scattered, backward peoples of earth on whom no aviator would waste his bombs," exclaims the RICHMOND NEWS LEADER. The awful possibilities also are emphasized by the TULSA WORLD, SAN ANTONIO EXPRESS, OKLAHOMA CITY TIMES and AKRON BEACON JOURNAL, and the MILWAUKEE JOURNAL says: "Against such horror as this, which would send the world of men reeling back to the standards of beasts, there is only one defense. That is to organize the world not to have war."

"And yet," declares the COLUMBIA STATE, "nations are planning to use these gases and destroyers; and they will be used in the next war. We can be sure of but one thing—that no agreement or treaty or pledge will ever make a nation give up a deadly weapon it fancies it may need some day, or prevent its use, in war, of the most destructive weapons and poisons it possesses or may devise."

Plans for investigations to determine responsibility for the catastrophe are discussed by the WASHINGTON EVENING STAR, with the comment: "How futile such steps seem! Necessary, no doubt, but in the wake of such tragedies man is always found merely to be groping impotently, if busily, in his efforts to seize upon something tangible as a possible comforting explanation of the mysterious workings of an omnipotent Providence."

"The discovery that it was due to a preventable cause," according to the DETROIT FREE PRESS, "will lead to additional precautions for the future. The dead and dying have joined the innumerable roll of men and women who have strewn the battleground between science and disease. The fight will go on with the Cleveland clinic a monument to the fallen."

"Twenty-one years ago," the NEWARK EVENING NEWS recalls, "Cleveland experienced another catastrophe in the burning of the school at Collinwood, a suburb, in which 175 children suffered death. Out of that came sweeping reforms in construction and maintenance of schoolhouses. It is certain that the explosion in the Crile clinic will ultimately have the same beneficial effect. Or man will have to admit defeat by his own inventions."

"Perhaps inquiry will show," suggests the PHILADELPHIA EVENING BULLETIN, "that we are yet imperfect in our mastery of chemistry, and that we do not yet know to the full the potential of these gases and these wonder-working combinations and coperations of the elements. Sometimes the thoughtful wonder whether we are not harnessing powers which we dare not unloose, because, if once set free, we do not know how to neutralize or check them."

"It is bad enough when a great ship goes down, or a crowded theater burns, or an explosion seals doomed men in a mine," states the OMAHA WORLD-HERALD. "But it is worse when sick and suffering people are trapped for torture and death in a hospital." The BUFFALO EVENING NEWS calls it "one of the greatest of peacetime horrors," and the SALT LAKE DESERET NEWS sees a warning "unhappily too long delayed, as to rendering harmless or secure the ultimates demonlike power of scientific devices and agencies."

It was a dreadfully costly lesson in the opinion of the WORCESTER EVENING GAZETTE and LOUISVILLE TIMES, but the ALBANY EVENING NEWS advises that "this grim horror should serve a purpose, it should make impossible another such." The CHATTANOOGA NEWS feels sure that "the horrible, grotesque stroke of fate will lead to further safety from poison-gas explosions."

"It should arouse the whole country to renewed efforts for safety in institutional buildings," declares the PITTSBURGH POST-GAZETTE, and similar demands for greater safety methods are made by the SYRACUSE HERALD, NEW YORK EVENING POST, YOUNGSTOWN VINDICATOR and KANSAS CITY JOURNAL-POST. The CHICAGO DAILY NEWS says that "scientific inventions have their price and their drawbacks, and unremitting vigilance is the condition of the maximum of safety and benefit in the application of those inventions."

"The Cleveland Clinic," states the CLEVELAND NEWS, "was the most progressive and effective weapon in the battle for prolonging mortal existence. And The News is convinced that the final result of the tragedy will be the ushering into the world of a medical clinic which will be a landmark in civilization's progress toward an era when sickness and disease shall be unknown." The CLEVELAND PLAIN DEALER asserts that "we may be certain that never again will a climbing cloud of red destruction write such a chapter of stupefying horror."

"The hospital appears to have been, in effect, a powder magazine," observes the ANN ARBOR DAILY NEWS, with the emphatic comment: "If there is any place where human life should be safe it is a hospital. Such an institution may be subjected to outside dangers, like any other building, but the possibility of disaster from within is not tolerable. The human mind will simply not accept it."

Supreme praise for the heroism of those who brightened the grim story by facing death to rescue others is given by the ANNISTON STAR and LITTLE ROCK ARKANSAS DEMOCRAT.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

OTHER STORMS.

While some believe that "Le Main de Dieu" has been laid heavily upon the American people this year by way of storm and hurricane, others read their histories and learn much about Providence. There have been storms and storms and Europe has suffered in times past.

The most severe storm which Europe has experienced in 500 years occurred in November, 1703, when more than 8,000 seamen lost their lives, including 1,500 men in the British Navy. The storm was especially destructive in England. Daniel Defoe, the author estimated the loss of life in England at 123, while many hundreds more were injured. The first Eddystone lighthouse was destroyed by the gale and its famous architect, Winstanley, who happened to be in the structure at the time was killed in its collapse.

Defoe did not have the advantage of modern methods of communication and newspapers were very short on collecting news from the suburbs of London Town. The number 123 might have been 1,230 or more.

Just Folks

By EDGAR A. GUEST

The Tired Man's Shock.

The weary man had quit the town
And put his irksome burdens down,
His cheeks were pale, his eyes were dim,
The day had sapped the strength of him.
He longed to know sleep's soothing balm,
He longed for rest and peace and calm,
And this he thought as he home turned,
A good night's sleep today I've earned.

It pleased him well to think that he Soon sheltered from the world would be.
In contemplation as a boy,
Who long anticipates a toy,
So he took infinite delight
In picturing his restful night.
He saw his cherished easy chair
And he was sprawled in his comfort there.

In just the thought of sitting still
His wearied spirit found a thrill.
Unless you too have yearned as he
To own an evening wholly free;
Unless unto yourself you've said:
At 9 o'clock I'll be in bed.
You cannot know or cannot guess
This tired man's dream of happiness.

So sure was he that rest had come,
That he began a song to hum.
But as he stepped his threshold o'er
Keen disappointment struck once more.
There stood his wife in evening gown
And all hopes came tumbling down
Said she: "Dress quickly. We are late
You know we've got a dinner date."

The judge who granted that divorce
Ne'er traced the causes to their source,
But one charge written in her plea
Was "once he used profanity."

HE WHO IS TRYING—

To find the truth will be glad to welcome a fact from any source.
To make the world better is never jealous when some other man does it.
To serve a cause never envies the man who serves it better.
To prove his religion will end deeds serve better than creeds.
To help others helps most when he refuses to do what they can do.
To please God does it most when he makes it pleasant for other men.
To be rid of a fault should avoid every needless temptation.

City Mission Gives Report For Month

Donations To Needy During Month Of April Are Reported. Services Are Many

Superintendent Benjamin J. Watkins of the City Rescue Mission has made his report of the work done there during the period from April 1 to May 1. It tells of the numerous activities that were sponsored by the mission and of the donations received from friends.

The report follows:

Mission services held, 30; Sunday school services, 4; sewing school services, 1; total number of services, 35.

Twenty-nine people were prayed for in the mission homes and hospitals; gospels of John given out, 5; 71 calls and investigations were made; 153 meals were furnished, 137 beds were furnished, 70 free baths were given, six odd jobs were provided, 51 donations of clothing were received, 23 families of individuals were given clothing, four donations of furniture were received, six donations of furniture were given out, and 40 baskets of food or potatoes were given out.

Mr. Goering offered his services free of charge as an aid to help the mission to secure more clothing, furniture, etc., to be given to people who are in need. Mr. Goering and Mr. Davis solicited several days this month and the mission truck called for these donations. People were very kind to us and a lot of clothing was received and given out where needed.

Charles Patton of the Harlansburg road donated 40 bushels of potatoes. The mission truck called for these and they were brought to the mission. Many people called for these potatoes and a great number of families were helped in this way. The McCreary brothers donated six bushels of potatoes this month, which were also much appreciated.

We have been able to secure employment for seven people and many others have secured various kinds of work.

Furniture was donated by several folks during this month and this was given to families where it was needed. Several beds were placed and several stoves were given out.

There are still a lot of transients and a lot of calls for meals and beds. We had to put a limit on the meals this month, and meals were only given out at certain times.

The sewing school closed on Saturday afternoon, April 6, with a party. There were about 100 present and the afternoon was enjoyed by all. The children who had a perfect attendance record were given velvet wall mottos, and those missing one or two days were given smaller prizes. The mission bought ice cream and the teachers baked cakes.

On investigation of one family which was reported to us, we found that the father was away trying to get work. They had a family of four children and had nothing in the house to eat. We bought them groceries and helped them several times, until some of them were able to secure work.

We are in touch with a widow lady who has two children who is trying to make a living. She is now opening up a small store in an effort to make a little money. We gave her a stove, some other furniture and a lot of clothing.

Quite a few donations of clothing and furniture were received and were in turn given out to those less fortunate.

On April 13, B. J. Watkins, superintendent of the mission, celebrated his spiritual birthday. A special service was presented in the mission. Those taking part were William Butler, Joseph Schaefnocker, William Reck and others.

Mrs. J. G. Comstock of Gardner stop and the Carol Colored Quintet had charge of the service in the mission on the evening of April 17. A large audience was present and enjoyed the service.

The mission Sunday school has been exceptionally well attended this month. Interest has been shown in the evening services and they were well attended. The Bible Study class of the mission meets every Thursday evening. Mr. Geiger is the teacher, and many have been faithful in their attendance to this class. Mr. Geiger is a very able teacher and his services are appreciated very much.

Rotary Club Has Mother's Program

Annual Event Is Carried Out By Grove City Club At Meeting This Week

GROVE CITY, May 24.—Mother's Day was very nicely carried out at the regular meeting of the Rotary Club this week. While very few of the local club are fortunate enough to have their mothers, a fair representation of mothers were present for this meeting.

Following the dinner Rotarian P. W. Allen sang two vocal solos, "Mother Love" and "Dream Mother" with Miss Louise Lauderdale accompanying at the piano.

Joseph Ketler well known entertainer and former star of Broadway presented two very humorus selections which were greatly enjoyed by all present.

In the absence of President Harry Pollock, L. H. Beeler vice president gave a very interesting talk to the mothers.

PAST GRANDS MEET

The Past Grand Club met last evening at the home of Mrs. Violet Snyder, South Broad street with twenty present. Those chosen by the club are: Mrs. Harvey Osborne, president; vice president, Mrs. Paul Book; secretary and treasurer, Mrs. Bertha Miller. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Herman Barber, Liberty street, the third Tuesday in June.

HEAR OLD FIDDLERS

Old time tunes resounded Thursday evening through the Odd Fellow's home at Grove City, when a concert was given by a number of old time fiddlers of this locality. It was their second appearance there. Among the musicians taking part were Lawrence Titsler, John Howard, Lawrence Bucksalew, and Mr. Boggs of Sharon, Commissioner Harry Hunter of Mercer and Fred Wilson of Butler. Commissioner is not a fiddler, but rendered vocal selections.

WINS PEACE PRIZE

Miss Edna Cookson, a resident of Grove City and a member of the senior class of Grove City College, has been awarded the Allen Peace Prize, of $70 offered by Cromble Allen, well known newspaperman of California, for the best essay on World peace.

Miss Cookson's article was selected out of a total of 13 submitted.

Sometime ago Mr. Allen, through the Rotary Club, offered a prize to be taken from the income of a $1,000 bond each year, to be given any member of the Grove City College graduating class that prepared the best essay on World Peace.

The income on the bond amounts to $70 each year and in order that the contest start this year, Mr. Allen advanced this amount.

One-Third Fail To Pass Auto Exams

HARISBURG, May 24.—A summary unit of the State Highway Patrol for April shows that a total of 24,298 persons were examined for driver's licenses of whom 18,071 passed and 6,227 failed.

In connection with these examinations it was necessary to correct the position of registration plates on 2,394 cars in which applicants presented themselves and to have the lighting equipment adjusted or corrected on 4069 cars.

Registrar Benjamin C. Eynon, of the Bureau of Motor Vehicles, said: "The examining units of the Highway Patrol are performing valuable work on compelling car owners to display their license plates so that they are clear and visible and also in correcting defective headlight equipment. The defects found by the examiners demonstrate, beyond a doubt, that Pennsylvania still has quite a few car owners who are lax or negligent in complying with the equipment provisions of the motor vehicle code."

PETER'S ADVENTURES IN ANIMAL LAND

BY MRS. FLORENCE SMITH VINCENT

LARRY, THE LOON, DODGES HIS FRIEND

Swish! Splash! A wild flutter of wings and the freightened young Loon had struck the water and torn some distance down the lake before the astonishing group on shore could say a word.

If Larry Loon, himself, had not ducked, and only just in time, he would most certainly have been hit. Now that fellow popped up and gave his queer cackle.

"Greetings, youngster. 'Tis easy to see you have not practiced your 'spirals' very much. You came down all right, but if I had not had an eye upon you, yould would have knocked off my beak. Next time take it easy! There is nothing to be afraid of. The water is your best friend—that is the first thing that very Loon is taught and he never should forget it—no matter what happens. My feathers! I don't believe I ever saw any one kick up so much spray as you do, young Loon!"

"One would have thought that a boat with a great big paddle wheel was going up the lake!" cried the boy. "We really couldn't see you at all for the foam behind you."

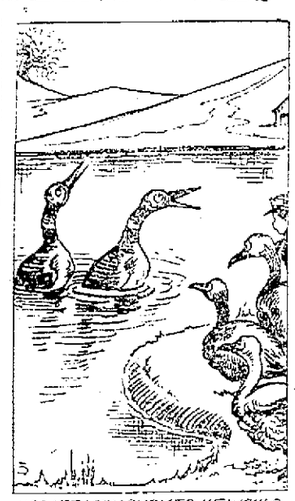

The young Loon, at last discovering that he was safe and sound and among friends, sailed shoreward by the side of the older Loon, who had swam down the lake to meet him. He was a bit grumpy, though, at being so spoken to by a perfect stranger and a Two-Legs, too.

"Every Loon comes down like that, whether it is his first or his fifteenth time, and you know it, Larry, so what is the use of pretending you could do it any better."

"Larry," for that was the friendly older Loon's name, chuckled.

Although neither Peter nor the Wild Geese had guessed it before they heard the young Loon speak to their companion—

"I never saw myself come down, so

HAD NOT LOON DUCKED HE WOULD CERTAINLY HAVE BEEN HIT

I'll not argue with you, but I wouldn't wonder if you were right, youngster. I know that as many times as I have dropped from sky to earth I never fail to get a funny feeling right in the pit of my stomach when I am taking a nose spin toward earth, and I suppose that I stir up as much spray as you do."

"As for you, stranger, I can see at a glance that you have no wings, nothing but these queer things that move only up and down; what good they can be I can't imagine. But since I really do not know anything about them I am not going to make any unkind remark." The young Loon glared at poor Peter, whom he didn't like at first sight. That was evident.

"Only I will say that having no wings you couldn't possibly get to the clouds and if you did you couldn't fly down, so you can have no idea what is feels like.

"And far from kicking up any spray, I dare say that if you managed to rise even two feet from the water you would fall back into it and sink like a stone."

Next: "Beaten at Their Own Game."

The Way OF THE World

By GROVE PATTERSON

THE PRESS

Glenn Frank, president of the University of Wisconsin, has a singular ability to face facts and size up a situation without prejudice. Of course no one is without prejudice but Dr. Frank seems to have less than most of us. Asked to discuss newspapers and the schools the other day he said some truthful things that may have disappointed his hearers. He said: "Before we can think straight about the relations of the press to the school we must recognize two very plain facts about the press: (1) It is the function of a newspaper to handle news, not to convert itself into a preaching convert agency in behalf of even the best cause, and (2) a newspaper and the press in general is a business institution with a legitimate desire to show a handsome profit at the end of the year.

"I am not suggesting the many things that reformers would like to have the press be; I am trying honestly to recognize what the press is. And, personally, I think it will do little good to quarrel with these two facts that characterize the press.

"If the press is to do more towards interpreting the schools to the public, the primary responsibility for bringing that happy event about will rest in the practical working out of things, not with the press, but with the schools. If school men want more matter about schools in the press, school men must do more things that have legitimate news value in the minds of the editors."

WE CAN AFFORD IT

"Can the states afford to educate their children?" This question, asked by the National Education association is easily answered. To take the state of Maryland, for example—and almost any other state would do as well—more than $86,000,000 was spent for automobiles and luxuries in one year compared with less than $27,000,000 for schools. Figures taken from all over the United States show that we spend enormously for ice cream, candy, sporting goods, jewelry and motor cars, and spend quite conservatively on our schools.

GOING UP

But there is an exceedingly bright side to the school story in America. Do you realize what has happened in ten years? In 1917 the average salary of teachers was $635. Today it is $1,300. Ten years ago the enrollment in high schools was 1,600,000. Today it is 4,000,000. Ten years ago the expenditure for public education was three-quarters of a billion dollars. Today it is $2,000,000,000.

You can tell when a campaign is over. The timid baloney creeps out and looks important again.

NAMES GRONINGER AS BUREAU HEAD

HARRISBURG, May 24.—Hugh H. Groninger has been named chief of the bureau of predatory animals in the Game Commission. Since the elevation of the former chief of the bureau, John J. Shutterback, to be executive secretary of the commission, Groninger has been in charge.

Harry VanCleve, expert trapping instructor and one of the veteran employes of the Commission, will succeed Groninger as assistant chief.

Because the word "vermin" was misleading to many persons the Board of Game Commissioners authorized changing the name of the bureau of vermin control to "bureau of predatory animals."

Growing importance of the propagation activities of the Commission has resulted in their consolidation under the direction of Herbert L. Beatty, formerly district supervisor at Franklin. He will have charge of all propagation, purchase and distribution of game.

So that all may enjoy healthful vegetables

Cook with sugar in only a little water

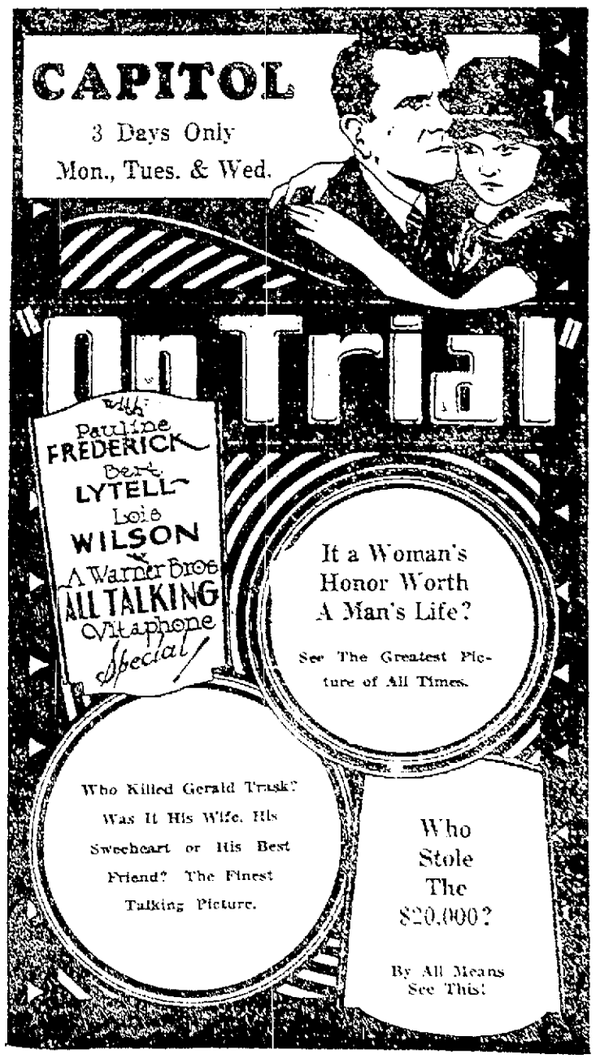

A GROUP of cooking experts recently made extensive tests in New York on the correct way of cooking vegetables. They made a discovery so simple and yet so far-reaching that every woman interested in good foods should know about it.

The vegetables were cooked in various ways. The various dishes were numbered. Then the experts tested them and voted. In every case the vegetables prepared with sugar and little water won unanimously.

Try, for example, this delicious Corn Pudding. Use either fresh or canned corn. To 2 cups of corn add 1 canned pimiento and 1 small green pepper shredded coarsely, ¼ small grated onion, 2 well-beaten eggs, 2 level tablespoons of sugar, 1 teaspoon of salt, ¼ teaspoon of pepper and paprika, 2 tablespoons of flour, 1 teaspoon of baking powder and 1 cup of milk. Mix all ingredients together, add 2 teaspoons of melted butter. Drain into a well-buttered casserole and bake half an hour. Then remove cover and delicately brown.

Try this new discovery every time you cook a vegetable. Note how much more both children and adults like vegetables cooked in this way because the added sugar develops and brings out all the natural, tasteful flavors of the foods. Sugar restores the flavor of freshness to vegetables that are wilted and to canned vegetables. Add a dash or more of sugar, depending on quantity, when cooking peas, lima beans, string beans, corn, carrots, beets, parsnips, sweet potatoes, squash, onions and tomatoes. Good food promotes good health. The Sugar Institute.

Malt-O-Meal is a delightful tasting, quick cooking wheat cereal flavored with specially prepared barley malt. It has just enough barley malt in it to give it a very pleasing, individual flavor. In addition to being a good tasting cereal, it has muscle and health building qualities that make it a desirable food for invalids and those who need light food, yet require a maximum of nourishment. It is not only good as a porridge, but it makes excellent mush for frying and can be used as the base for very tasty puddings. Congress Bills To Curb Drugs Show Sentiment

Many Measures Along This Line Introduced At Present Special Session

WON'T TREAT ADDICTS AS COMMON CRIMINALS

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 24.—A strong sentiment in Congress for the use of extraordinary measures to stamp out the drug evil in the United States is manifested in the introduction of many bills to this end in the present special session.

Following closely upon the action of Congress last year in authorizing the building of two narcotic farms to be operated in connection with the prison system for the reform of "dope" addicts, the measures are believed to presage legislation in the regular session beginning in December. Among the new measures are:

Strong Measures

Creation of joint congressional committe to be known as Committee on Narcotic Traffic, introduced by Sen. Wheeler (D) of Montana and LaGuardia (R) of New York, which would make the narcotics traffic one of the major subjects with which Congress deals. The committee would be charged with the duty of making a sweeping investigation of the situation, and to recommend legislation.

Resolution of Rep. Potter (R) of Pennsylvania, requesting the President to make representations to the power party to the Hague opium convention, urging full compliance with the provision and aims of that convention.

Bill of Rep. Potter increasing substantially the penalties for violating the Harrison anti-narcotics act, raising the maximum to eight years and depriving any persons convicted of selling "dope" of the benifit of parole laws.

Another bill by Rep. Potter to make the physician in charge of the narcotics division in the office of Surgeon of the Bureau of Public Health as assistant surgeon general, thus raising the question of narcotics to one of the most important dealt with by the Public Health Service.

To Treat Addicts

Throughout the proposals there is an addition of many members of Congress to treat drug addicts as sick people rather than as criminals, and to make the offense of manufacturing or selling drugs one of the most grevious violations of the nation's criminal laws.

The narcotics question was brought home forcibly to Congress in the report of the House special prisons investigating committee headed by Rep. Cooper (R) of Ohio. This committee declared that the handling of narcotics addicts was the most serious question facing the authorities administering the nation's penal system. They heartily backed the proposal to separate drug addicts from other prisoners by establishment of prison farms.

"Dope" has been smuggled into federal prisons and in the present overcrowded condition hopeless addicts are sometimes put in the same cell with prisoners who have never been touched by the habit. It is frequently contracted in this manner, the committee found.

OFFICIALS WILL AID STUDY COURSE

HARRISBURG, May 24.— Sixteen State officials, including secretaries and directors of departments, have been selected to speak this fall in a course on "Pennsylvania State Government" to be given by the extension division of Bucknell University in Harrisburg. The course will be from October, 1929, to February, 1930. Classes will be held in the Senate caucus room. Academic credit will be granted by the university for the work of the course to those qualifying. Others may attend all the lectures and participate to the extent desired.

The program as arranged for this new experiment in extension work calls for two-hour class periods. The first hour of each period will be devoted to the lecture by an outstanding governmental official and the second hour to class discussions. The work will be under the personal direction of Harwood L. Childs, head of the department of political science at Bucknell.

Lectures will be broadcast by station WBAK.

Draft Rules To Enforce New Law Regulating Milk

HARRISBURG, May 24. — The Bureau of Engineering of the Pennsylvania State Health Department is making necessary arrangements for the enforcement of the new law which provides for the licensing and regulation of dealers in milk used for human consumption.

Several months will be required before the necessary details of the inspections can properly be arranged for but dealers are advised to maintain the sanitary standards formerly set by the Department, and the minority of individuals and firms that has not as yet reached those standards to interest themselves toward that end.

Detailed information relative to the actual enforcement of the law by the State Health Department will be issued in the near future.

Days' Prayer In Congress

The Chaplain, Rev. James Shera Montgomery, D. D., offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, breathe upon us, and any depression we may have will pass away like a morning cloud. Take away from our minds any strain and stress and let them confess the wonder of Thy peace. We need more receptiveness and we pray that Thy Holy Spirit may manifest the assurance of a calm and fruitful faith. Employ our gifts, our powers, and all material forces in the promotion of good will throughout the Republic. Convince us dear Father that the man who is intelligently and intimately related to Thee is a tremendous force from which issue the currents of wisdom and righteousness. Through Jesus Christ our Savior. Amen.

Schacht Not To Leave Position On Reparations

German Reparation Delegate Assures News Service That Schacht Will Not Resign

HOPE TO UNTANGLE SERIOUS PROBLEM

Pressure From Ruhr Valley Will Not Sway Dr. Schacht's Firm Stand

By ROBERT W. THOMPSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PARIS, May 24.—"Dr. Schacht will not resign. He intends to carry through to the very end."

This was the statement given International News Service today by a leading member of the German delegation as the reparations committee of experts met again in an effort to reach some solution of what now appears a hopelessly tangled problem.

The statement, whose source may be regarded as authoritative, sets at rest prevalent rumors that Dr. Jhalmar Schacht, leader of the German delegation, was contemplating following the example of Dr. Albert Voeller, who has resigned his position as a member of the German committee.

This same authority heatedly denied the rumors that Dr. Schacht's alleged disposition to resign was due to pressure from the industrial magnates of the Ruhr valley.

Very Independent

"Dr. Schacht is absolutely independent," International News Service was told. "He would not be affected by 'pressure' from the Ruhr magnates or anyone else."

Members of the American delegation conferred for a considerable time with Dr. Schacht today, apparently discussing some means of reaching a compromise in the reparations deadlock. It is known that the Germans are looking toward the American experts to make some gesture which may succeed in saving the conference from abject failure.

In the meantime, as the conference nears its close, the allies and the Germans remain at apparently hopeless loggerheads on several important issues.

There have been no indications so far that the German delegation will recede from its determination now to countenance the allied reservations to the compromise plan proposed by Owen D. Young, chairman of the committee and head of the American delegation.

Queer mortals! There is no "color line" for Indians because the red man feels superior to whites.

Deadly Gas Of Clinic Catastrophe Not Destructive Enough For War

By CHARLES P. STEWART,
Central Press Staff Writer.

WASHINGTON, May 24.—Imagine such horrors as the recent tragedy of the Cleveland Clinic as every day incidents—perhaps many times daily—of the warfare of the future.

The idea must have occurred to nearly everyone—

The thought of deadly gas bombs raining down upon great centers of population—men, women and children falling in heaps—whole cities suffocated into lifelessness in a matter of minutes without the possibility of a blow being struck in defense of any of them!

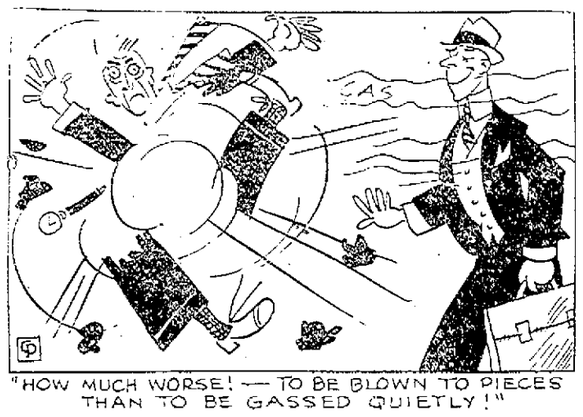

Was the Cleveland catastrophe a fair example of what we may expect from the employment of poison gas in the next conflict?

It was not, according to the practically unanimous verdict of experts at the war department's division of chemical warfare.

To the layman the Cleveland picture certainly looks as if it might be accepted as a faithful pre-vision of scenes and hundreds of scenes which inevitably will be enacted in every major armed struggle of the hereafter. But as usual professionals dispute its accuracy.

"I have often noticed this—the highest authorities on any scientific subject almost invariably pooh-pooh the forecasts and conclusions that the average individual is surest of.

"HOW MUCH WORSE! — TO BE BLOWN TO PIECES THAN TO BE GASSED QUIETLY!"

The chemical warfare experts were instantly intensely interested in the Cleveland disaster, yes.

Maj. Gen. Harry L. Gilchrist chief of the service, left on the first train after it was reported, to investigate it personally in all its details. Before departing he suggested to war department associates, as a tentative theory of his own, the possibility that some accidental mixture of ingredients had resulted in the generation of a hitherto unknown gas, of undreamed potency.

Whether or not this hypothesis was confirmed is as yet unrevealed.

It is also extremely likely to remain unrevealed if the general did make any important discovery until disclosed under conditions of actual warfare—military men being strongly inclined to secrecy in such matters.

However insofar as concerns the bringing of the populations of cities to terms—

"Army commanders" says Capt. A. H. Waitt of the chemical service's technical division, "undoubtedly will continue to regard bombardment with high explosives as a more efficacious extreme method than the use of gas of any kind.

"For military purposes a gas must be heavy, to cling to the ground or it dissipates itself too quickly.

"No layer of such a gas can be laid deeply enough to rise above the lower or perhaps the second story of a house. By sealing themselves up indoors and especially by taking refuge in the upper stories of their larger buildings the inhabitants of a gassed city would be comparatively safe."

"Of course" recognized the captain, "the city could be gassed and then knocked down by bombardment, forcing its inhabitants into the open. Or it could be wrecked by bombardment and then gassed.

"But the bombardment would adequately serve the attackers purpose in any event so why use gas, too?

"Besides if the attacking forces plan to occupy the city their own gas would hamper them probably for a week at least."

"Furthermore" continued the expert "explosives are more destructive—to life as well as to property.

"Even against the deadliest gas some protection is possible.

"Against explosives there can be none—except deep in the ground. No mere cellar is sufficient.

"Finally explosives are so terrifying.

"How much worse!—to be blown to pieces—than be gassed quietly!"

Michigan Assembly Praises Couzens

(International News Service)

LANSING, Mich., May 24.—Complimenting it as "the latest and largest of a large series" the Michigan House of Representatives unanimously passed a resolution commending and congratulating Senator James Couzens for his gift of $10,000,000 trust fund to the children of Michigan.

The resolution which was introduced by Rep. Vincent P. Dacey of Detroit read:

"On behalf of the people of Michigan we congratulate Senator Couzens on his whole-hearted munificestance and commend him for his praiseworthy programs of philanthropy.

President Loses, Al Smith Gains In Avoirdupois

Worries Of Office Already Showing Effect On Nation's Chief Executive

HOOVER HAS LOST ABOUT 15 POUNDS

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, May 24.—Since last election day Herbert Hoover has lost about 15 pounds, Al Smith has gained about 10 pounds and Calvin Coolidge has remained at about the same weight.

Latest statistics: Hoover, 185 pounds; Smith 166 pounds; Coolidge about 160 pounds.

Mr. Hoover realized when he was elected to the highest office in the land that his duties as President would be even more arduous than those of a cabinet member, and for some weeks back he has been going through light training with a view of keeping in the proverbial pink of condition. Steadily, according to reports from Washington, his weight has declined, so that now he is down to 185, which is just about right.

Mr. Smith, however, relaxed following the strenuous campaign, and as a result has put on weight. He took a trip down South and had a good time fishing and resting.

With the hard labor of the campaign behind him, it was only natural that the famous Democratic leader filled out a bit. But, now that the weather has become warm—finally—Al plans to get plenty of exercise and it would not be surprising if he gets back to his old poundage. His program in New York calls for plenty of golf.

Mr. Coolidge looked just about the same in weight upon his last appearance in New York, the occasion being his election to the board of directors of the New York Life Insurance Company.

This writer was among those who interview the rather uncommunicative Coolidge and as there were weightier subjects than weight to be discussed and the former President seemed to be in a hurry, we had no opportunity to propound a question as to his poundage.

However, regardless of the weights of these three distinguished men, all of them are in first-class physical condition, and it is not stretching a point to say that their millions of admirers all over the world hope that their good health continues.

WATCH YOUR CHILDREN

In These Dark Winter Months Deadly Catarrh And "Flu" Are Particularly Likely To Attack Growing Girls And Boys

Don't make the mistake of thinking you can safely leave Catarrh "to get well of itself." Catarrh is a horrible affliction which makes life miserable for the sufferer, and bad enough for others around him who must see and hear the constant hawking and spitting, as well as smell his bad breath. Catarrh weakens and poisons the system. Its foul secretions are swallowed, and the stomach itself becomes filled up with the slimy discharges of the disease. Health is almost impossible, and it is but a short step to consumption, the scourge of modern times, bringing death to millions every year.

In the following letter Mr. Philip Grosty, Connellsville, Pa., praises his wife for protecting their growing family from this horrible menace.

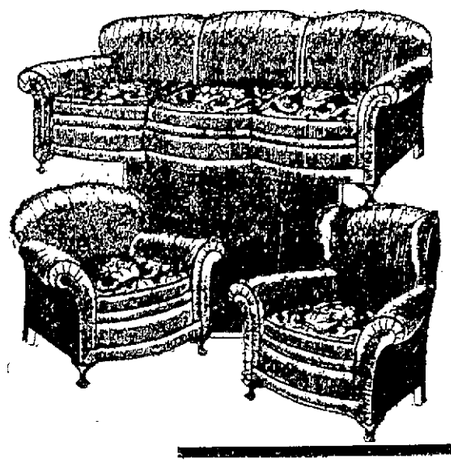

"Ever since my wife learned about World's Tonic," he writes, "she has used it to guard our children against Catarrh. We are Austrians, and ordinary American medicines don't seem to be beneficial to us. World's Tonic is different. It is made from plants and herbs grown in their natural state, and brought from several parts of the world. This is why Austrians like ourselves, and other Europeans, as well as Americans, find it so amazingly beneficial. At the first sign of a cold, in any of the children, my wife gives World's Tonic regularly for several days, to regulate the bowels. It is wonderful to see how quickly the trouble clears up. Our children are all well and healthy. Catarrh has never taken root in any of them. We are sure that we owe this to World's Tonic for many of our neighbors' children used to have running noses, took cold very easily, and have a cold spell from one end of the year to the other. We have persuaded them to use World's Tonic, and ever since we have done so the children have got well quickly and are now strong and healthy like our own."

World's Tonic is on sale at McKee's Kut Rate Store, Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., Paisley's, Smith's and other modern drug stores. (A-65)

Mrs. Gene Tunney Seriously Ill, Is Report From Italy

Report Mrs. Gene Tunney Being Kept Alive By Artificial Means

SUFFERED SUDDEN SERIOUS RELAPSE

(International News Service)

BRIONI, Italy, May 24.—Mrs. Polly Lauder Tunney, wife of Gene Tunney, retired heavyweight champion, who recently underwent an operation for intestinal trouble, is in serious condition, and is being kept alive by artificial means, it was reported here today. This report, however, is not confirmed by members of the family, who are maintaining the utmost secrecy regarding Mrs. Tunney's condition.

It was understood that Mrs. Tunney was convalescent, although extremely weak, and the report that her condition was precarious came as a shock to those outside the family circle.

A friend of the Tunney family was quoted as saying:

"Mrs. Tunney's condition is extremely grave. She is being kept alive artificially. If her life is saved it will be because the family's wealth permits extraordinary medical attention."

Tunney spends most of his time at the bedside of his wife. He is obviously worried over her condition.

Indications were that Mrs. Tunney suffered an unexpected relapse while apparently on the road to recovery. At the time of the operation several weeks ago it was understood that a small tumor, close to the appendix, was removed.

Later it was reported that a toxic condition had arisen from impurities either in food she had eaten or water she had drunk.

Immense Crowd Is Anticipated At Convention

Preparing For Host Of Delegates At New Wilmington In June

The capacity of the New Wilmington United Presbyterian church will undoubtedly be taxed when the 91st convention of the Lawrence County Sabbath School Association convenes there Thursday, June 6th, for, in addition to other inspiring speakers the afternoon and evening sessions will be addressed by Dr. Henry E. Tralle, noted and dynamic speaker and religious editor and authority, of New York City.

The address he will deliver at the evening sessions is his most popular address—one that has entertained and inspired more than one thousand audiences—the subject being "What Is A Boy". At the afternoon session his address will be along more practical Sabbath School lines and the subject is, "Let's Do Something About It."

The entire program of the convention is one of inspiration and instruction. Representatives from the State Association, outstanding leaders from the Pittsburgh District in Christian Education, and local specialists will make up the program which is an outstanding one.

Between the afternoon and evening session there will be a Christian Fellowship dinner and Sabbath School superintendents are urged to notify the county secretary, Mrs. William J. Marshall, promptly as to how many will attend from the various Sabbath Schools. A quota has been given to each Sabbath School in the county, and remittances for reservations can be made now. This will be a happy fellowship occasion.

The convention will run on Eastern Standard Time and a complete program will be run in an early issue.

Says Gene Told Bride Everything

Intimate That Tunney Bought Letters From Mrs. Fogarty

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 24.—Mrs. Katherine King Fogarty, Texas divorcee who is suing Gene Tunney for $500,000, charging breach of promise, broke her silence today before leaving New York for Connecticut.

Upon the advice of her counsel, Col. Lewis L. Field, of New Haven, Mrs. Fogarty refused to be questioned, but she did divulge a few bits of information voluntarily.

She expressed chagrin at published reports from Brioni, Italy, that the former heavyweight champion "could not remember her."

Col. Field, however, when asked if it was true that Mrs. Fogarty has sold a number of letters to Tunney issued no denial. When asked if the sum paid by Tunney for the letters was $75,000, he added, "the sum is incorrect."

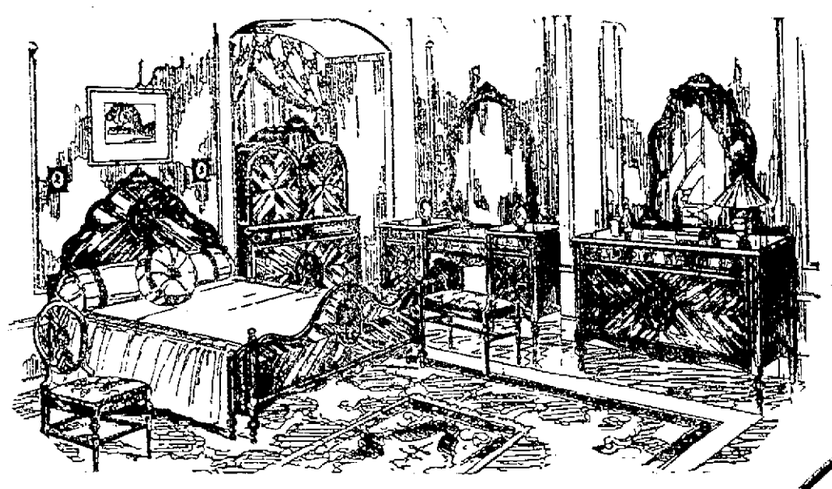

When asked about the matter, Tunney's manager, Billy Gibson, is quoted as saying:

"I think Gene told his fiancee everything a couple of months before they were married. He made a clean breast of the Fogarty business at that time."

Citizens Take Tree Argument To Courtroom

Pittsburgh Court Asked To Settle Equity Suit Filed Over Locust Tree

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, May 24.—When is a tree not a tree?

That's the question the common pleas court will have to decide as the result of an equity action filed here today by Thomas Jenkins, Dr. W. H. Grimm and his wife, Elsie, against their neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Woolson.

The tree in question is an ordinary locust tree.

To the Woolsons it is a thing of beauty and a joy forever. It is graceful, beautiful, and useful they contend.

But Jenkins, Dr. Grim and his wife contend that it's nothing but a nuisance and an expense.

Its branches spread several feet over their house, rub against spouts and gutters in winter, necessitating repairs, they claim, and in summer the leaves clog rain spouts.

The court, which will have to pass on this difficult question, is asked to issue an injunction against the maintenance of the tree and to declare it a nuisance.

Both parties in the suit accuse each other of lacking neighborly spirit.

The contract will be signed by council and work will be started as soon as Contractors Woods and Golder present a signed contract from the traction company for their share of the work.

Officials of the traction company have stated that they will go along with the work but must have approval for the expenditure from the New York office of the company, before the contract can be signed. This is expected shortly.

PITTSBURGH, May 24.—Held without bail and charged with murder, Mrs. Mary Barr, 48, of Braddock, today was in the county jail awaiting a coroner's inquest into the death of her husband, Harry Barr, 52, street car motorman.

Barr died yesterday noon in the Braddock General hospital of pistol wounds which, in a death-bed statement, he accussed his wife of inflicting. Mrs. Barr denied the charge.

Questioned by county detectives, Mrs. Barr steadfastly maintained that she had not shot her husband. Detectives planned to question her further after the coroner's verdict had been returned.

A large number of people of the seventh ward witnessed the demonstration. Bleachers had been erected and seats were carried from the school for spectators.

Several hundred children, pupils of Mahoning school, took part in the exhibition of health and physical educational work of the school. Pupils from all grades of the school including primary, intermediates and junior high school pupils performed.

The program was well presented. The children had been well trained and took their parts well.

First Part.

There were two parts to the program, the first part being a health pageant entitled "A Visit From Mars." This part of the program was given by the pupils of the primary and intermediate grades. The pageant opened with music by the school orchestra directed by Miss Gladys Thomas. The pageant was introduced in song by the intermediate chorus of the school. The story of the pageant, citizens of Healthytown receive a telegram from health officers of the planet Mars to the effect they are coming to visit Healthytown. Officers arrive and are greeted and presented with the key to the town.

Children of Healthytown then demonstrated the methods they use to keep healthy. First, clean-up squad drill with brooms and sprinkling cans; tiny tots drill, children having all kinds of brushes and pails; milk, children representing bottles of milk who pull off children representing coffee and tea; children representing healthy vegetables were in costume; May pole dance represented exercises; four children in sleepers and sand man represented rest.

The pageant ended with the officers from Mars leaving Healthytown after selecting children to return with them to teach the citizens of Mars how to keep healthy.

Second Part.

Your Broadway AND Mine BY WALTER WINCHELL

By Central Press.

NEW YORK, May 24.—When Mark Barron of the Theater Guild and Ward Morehouse, critic-playwright, were in London recently they witnessed a series of international bouts, in which six Britishers were knocked cold.

"What's wrong with these English fighters, anyway?" queried Ward.

"They depend too much on their navy," was the reply.

MACON WHOOPEE

Under the blazing title of "Winchell Misses It" the Macon, Ga., Telegraph editorializes: "Walter Winchell, who writes the sprightly column from New York to the right, batted somewhat less than a thousand in reporting the love of John Gilbert. Mr. Winchell says that people are That Way, which mean they are in love, and he has been giving us the impression that Greta Garbo and Gilbert were Plenty That Way; in fact, he has made Garbo-Gilberting the synonym for wooing. We had about become reconciled to seeing the notice any day of the talkie idol's engagement when he hops up with Ina Claire and elopes to Reno. Our faith in Winchell is shaken."

Well, the good ol' Macontelly is entitled to a snicker, at that. And this is a good time to explain that the expressions "that way" and "Garbo-Gilberting" mean two different states of youknowwhat; "that way" standing for being in love, and "Garbo-Gilberting" was meant to imply exactly what that starring duo revealed on the screen together—pashy petting. We wish we could figure out a synonym as good or as euphonious. Certainly "Gilbert-Claireing" or even "Lindy-Morrowing" is second rate.

And since the Macon Telegraph brought up the subject it isn't batting 1.000 either. John and Ina haven't gone to Reno yet. They were sealed in Las Vegas.

I GET IT, I GET IT!

"Dear Winchell," writes Izzy Ellinson, "here's a soothing motto for a talkie director's desk: 'Accents will happen.'"

THE PAY-OFF

A New Yorker of excellent reputation, we hear, moved from his Park avenue manse to another exclusive dwelling some time ago, but not before he was told to furnish several references from the "best people." The assignment took him almost an entire day searching for busy friends. He finally presented the necessary credentials and recommendations from city officials, financiers, clergymen and reputable merchants.

Then two days after getting his lease he discovered that his next door neighbor was Mae West, who comes up for trial soon for presenting a play that was raided.

IN OTHER WORDS

Then there's the speakeasy sign over the bar on West 55th street, which reads: "Hurray for Pro-hibition!"

IT COULD HAPPEN

From our Hollywood spy it is learned exactly why John Gilbert and Greta Garbo split, and why John married Ina Claire. It seems that Gilbert tipteed up behind Greta one night and cooed: "Come on, baby; kiss papa."

"You make me sick," groaned Greta, "always talkin' shop!"

New Wilmington Students Stage Fine Operetta

Excellent Program Is Presented; News Notes Of College Town

Students of New Wilmington high school staged another successful production when the operatta, Peggy and the Pirate," which was put on in the New Wilmington Community House last night by the Glee club, was acclaimed by a large audience of townspeople.

The Naccanna club will hold its regular meeting at the home of Mrs. John Wright here this evening.

Mrs. W. J. Conway is spending the week with friends in Sewickly.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas James, recently of West Middlesex, are the newest residents of the college town.

The Rev. and Mrs. Parker H. Rose of Franklinville, N. Y., are visiting at the home of the former's parents here, Rev. and Mrs. H. J. Rose.

About Nothing In Particular

(A Weekly Blurb)

A certain Englishman named Ponsonby has written a deucedly fine little book exposing the methods which were used by governments and newspapers during the war to hoodwink the people and cause that patriotic fervor to glow. A quotation which hits the eye in his tome reads like this—"Man's habit of lying is not nearly so extraordinary as his amazing readiness to believe."

A SENTIMENTAL POME

"Sweety, Honey, Lovey,
Cutey, Dearie, Dovey . . .
Sounds like slush or mush, I'm sure,

Raving, raving, on and on—
Yet that's really not the case.
Those were merely words of grace,
Spoken seated on a log.

State Bureau Reports Maple Syrup Scheme

HARRISBURG, May 24.—Agents of the bureau of foods and chemistry of the Department of Agriculture have uncovered a new scheme for defrauding the public by the sale of artificial maple syrup.

In an effort to evade the regular inspections made by the bureau the agents for the artificial syrup have been selling unlabeled cans direct to the retailers. The wholesalers furnish the labels and instruct the retailers to affix them. In that way they hope to escape prosecution for the sale of products incorrectly labeled.

The labels agents said were complete in the last detail to mislead the purchasers. Fictitious names and addresses discovered on the labels include "Frank King, Route No. 1, Slippery Rock, Pa.," "T. W. Allen, R. F. D. 2, Avon Pa." and "John A. Stone R. F. D. 2, Carroll, Pa."

All the labels guaranteed the contents of the cans to be strictly pure maple syrup prepared from the sap of the rock maple tree.

Examination of the contents of the cans showed it consisted of cane sugar artificially colored and flavored.

Retailers have been warned by the bureau not to buy products without labels attached showing the names of authentic producers.

Agents of the bureau have been warned to be active in checking the fraud during the present summer because the usual maple products crop in Pennsylvania was a little more than 50 per cent of the usual total.

Poppy Day Opens Here Saturday

Mrs. Harry W. Brown, Prominent W. C. T. U. And Auxiliary Legion Worker Supports Day

ELLWOOD CITY, May 24.—Mrs. Harry Brown, president of the American Legion auxiliary, issues the following tribute to "The Poppy" in honor of the annual poppy day sale which takes place in Ellwood City all day Saturday:

THE POPPY

Events are symbolized more or less by emblems, many by flowers, and they bring to mind the importance of the particular event for which they are known.

The poppy has taken its place of symbols as the flower of the World War. It has won a place in the hearts of the people of many countries as it is the memorial flower of the French, British and Canadian World War veterans, and it is the memorial flower of the American Legion and the American Legion auxiliary.

The poppy that is worn as a tribute to the memory of the men who gave their lives in service to their country in the great war is made by the disabled men of that war.

Hands of disabled veterans weary of idleness are given employment shaping the little red flowers. Discouraged men are given the revivifying experience of again earning money. They are all men who receive little or no government compensation. In this way they, of whom there are 60,000 in hospitals, make approximately $100,000 a year for the support of their families.

Except in a few places the sale of the poppies comes the Saturday before Memorial Day. Every penny gained from this sale is expended in direct relief work, with not a cent going for administration expenses or salaries. A large part of the money is expended in the community in which it is raised.

The wearing of the popoy honors the dead and serves the living.

Zeppelin Will Start Flight After Repairs

The above map graphically depicts the gallant fight against the elements which the Graf Zeppelin made after four of her five engines were crippled while flying over Spain enroute to the United States. After two engines failed Dr. Hugo Eckener ordered the ship to turn about and head for home. Two more went dead on the way and with only one working the eighteen passengers and crew of the giant airship found themselves drifting helplessly over France toward the Mediterranean. Only the tremendous efforts and skill of Dr Eckener saved a catastrophe when the Graf finally was landed at Cuers, France. New motors are being rushed to replace the damaged ones and the Graf will proceed to Friedrichshafen. It is believed that the flight to the United States will be tried again after the repairs are made.

Modern Babel

Chicago Plans Giant Skyscraper

An ultra modern Tower of Babel, which will dwarf any edifice the world has ever seen, is to be erected in Chicago in the immediate future. It is to be known as Crane Tower and will not only be the highest structure ever erected, but will also be the largest office building on earth. The proposed building is shown at right compared with the Woolworth building in New York and the Graf Zeppelin.

By ROY J. GIBBONS
Staff Writer for Central Press

CHICAGO, May 24.—An ultra modern Tower of Babel, which when completed will dwarf any edifice the world has ever seen, is to be erected in Chicago in the immediate future, according to plans announced by the Railroad Air Rights Corporation, an organization of New York and Chicago financiers.

Towering 1,022 feet into the sky, the proposed structure will make the building efforts of the ancient Babylonians, famed down the centuries, look like the work of the Lilliputians. It will be 75 stories high, including a 125-foot beacon tower, or twice the height of the Pyramid of Khufu in Egypt, largest of those wonderful tombs of the kings of the Nile.

Higher Than Eiffel Tower

When completed it will top any present or proposed New York structure by 180 feet, and will be 33 feet higher than the Eiffel Tower in Paris.

In addition to being the highest structure ever erected by man, it is to be the largest office building on earth, with a total of 3,500,000 square feet of floor space. The next largest building, the Equitable building in New York, contains only 1,250,000 square feet of floor space, or less than one-half of that of the proposed skyscraper of skyscrapers.

Crane Tower will be the name of the new edifice, which will be located on Randolph street, east of Michigan avenue, where it will fit magnificently into the beautification plans for the lake front, scene of the 1933 Chicago World's Fair.

Below the main floor of the proposed tower building a great railroad system, with electrically propelled trains, will run with precisely the same freedom as if only blue sky were above it and not a thousand odd feet of stone and steel. The land on which the new building is to be built belongs to the Illinois Central railroad, which has leased the air rights above their property to the corporation of financiers for a period of 100 years. Crane Tower will be the first big office building in Chicago to have direct underground connections with a railroad terminal.

$26,000,000 Bond Issue

Features of the new building will be a 1,000-automobile garage for tenants, a first floor bank, several convention halls, a coliseum, a tenants' club, Turkish baths, a gymnasium and 48 hotel rooms for tenant guests. With the exception of the crowning stories, which will be of gold terra cotta, the building will be constructed of Bedford stone. Financing of the project will involve issues of $26,000,000 in leasehold stock and bonds.

Completed and rented to full capacity, Crane Tower will make the Tower of Babel look like—and probably sound like—a beehive as compared to a boiler factory, with tenants of a hundred nationalities talking in a hundred different tongues and directing business with ramifications from Norway's northernmost reaches to the coral reefs of the far South Seas.

Four Sentenced For Violations Of Liquor Laws

Thirty-Four Others Are Given Fines By Federal Court Judge In Pittsburgh

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, May 24.—Four persons today were starting jail sentences and 34 others were digging down in their purses to pay fines totalling $5,000 imposed in Federal court last evening on violators of the prohibition laws.

Mrs. Tecla Laban, one of the defendants, was sentenced to serve 60 days in the Beaver County jail for possession of a still and manufacture and possession of whiskey on her farm near Ambridge. When he pleaded guilty to selling a pint of whiskey, Stanley Suchiak, Connellsville pharamacist, was fined $150.

Midwest To Unite In Waterway Fight

Will Seek Federal Aid For Projected Lakes-To-Gulf Route

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, May 24.—An effort will be made shortly with all Mississippi valley states joining forces with Governor L. L. Emerson of Illinois to attempt to obtain federal aid in completing the lakes-to-gulf waterway, according to Col. Robert I. Randolph, consulting engineer for the Mississippi Valley Association.

"I believe the officials of the Mississippi Valley Association will support Governor Emerson's plan if it is found practicable, and if, within a short time, the full force of the commercial and political influence of the valley can be brought into play within a short time," Col. Randolph said.

According to Col. Randolph, steps have already been taken in this direction. Savings on shipments to and from Chicago will amount to $6,000,000 or $7,000,000 annually when the waterway is completed, he pointed out, and the estimated cost of finishing the project is only $5,000,000.

Why not let the hands of long experience make your Motor Oil

AUTOMOBILE motors present the toughest lubricating problem in the world.

Making an oil to handle the difficult job of combating heat and friction both, is one of the most intricate of industrial sciences. The wide differences in types of petroleum bases, and the many constituents in each, make it still more complex. . . . Surely no undertaking for novices!

The Atlantic Refining Company, with vast research, laboratory, engineering and refining facilities, has been developing lubricants for internal combustion engines since "horseless carriage" days. From this enviable experience comes the most efficient motor lubricant made—ATLANTIC Paraffine Base MOTOR OIL

Not only is Atlantic different from other types of motor oils—but different from other paraffine base oils.

ATLANTIC Paraffine Base MOTOR OIL means less oil consumption, fewer crankcase drainings, longer motor efficiency—more miles per dollar than any other motor oil has ever given you! Using it regularly will prove every one of these claims—absolutely.

Correct grade for your car obtainable wherever you see this equipment.

ATLANTIC Paraffine Base MOTOR OIL combined with extra-powered Atlantic Gasoline represents the ultimate in motor performance.

Have Your Tires Overhauled
for this Year's Driving

WHY not let us give your tires an overhaul? Perhaps your best tires are on the front instead of the rear. Probably there are some cuts or cracks—or hidden breaks—that can be easily fixed now to save you the cost of new tires a little later.

Let us take off all your tires—inspect the casings and tubes—straighten, clean and graphite the rims—and put them back on the proper wheels.

We'll be glad to do this for a nominal charge, and to give you an estimate on putting your rubber in ship-shape condition.

Little things which are neglected cause many a tire to give out long before it should. You can't tell what may be wrong inside merely by looking at tires on the outside. The safest plan is to have them all taken off and examined.

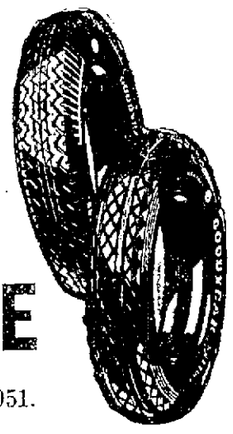

Drive over and let us do this job for you before you ruin a tire you might have saved.

Britain Facing Beef Famine In Coming 3 Years

Shrinkage Of Argentine Cattle Exports Alarms Meat Trade Experts

ARE NOW FAR BELOW FIGURES OF 1924

By CHARLES A. SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, May 24. — Beef-eating John Bull is going to have a lean time very soon if prophecies of a beef famine come true.

Something approaching a beef famine is predicted by meat trade experts, and democracy, it is declared, will have to be content with mutton.

Three years is the limit given to the rule of beef. After that, anything may happen.

In Argentine, it is pointed out, cattle ranchers are having a very bad time, and it is suggested their condition will go from bad to worse. Apparently, as the Argentine cattle dwindle in numbers, they are reported to be dwindling in weight also.

Supply Diminishes

It is stated by investigators that the number of cattle slaughtered in the Argentine last year was 404,000 fewer than in 1927, and that exports of chilled and frozen beef were 2,000,000 quarters fewer.

Since 1924 the shrinkage of exports by the Argentine staple industry has continued steadily, until today there are 32 per cent below the 1924 figure.

In view of the fact that Britain obtains most of her beef from Argentine, a shortage from that quarter would eventually have serious repercussions in Britain.

On the other hand, there are some large meat importers who scoff at reports of a shortage, and declare there is not the slightest fear about future supplies.

Brazil To Rescue

A shortage in the Argentine will mean that meat producers in Brazil and Uruguay will be given a spur to raise more beef-producing cattle, it was declared.

"In a few years' time supplies from Uruguay and Brazil will equal what Britain has been getting from the Argentine," said one prominent importer.

"I say emphatically there will be nothing like a famine either in three or 30 years.

"If the consumption of beef declines, it will be due to the increase of the week-end habit, and that is fatal to the Sunday roast."

Germany Receives Revised Bill On Reparations Sum

Delegates Of Creditor Nations Hand Report To Dr. Schacht

(International News Service)

PARIS, May 24.—Germany receives her revised reparation bill today. Delegates of the creditor nations handed their report to Chairman Owen D. Young of the experts' committee for presentation to Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, chief of the German delegation later in the afternoon.

This report contains revisions and conditions for acceptance of 2,050,000,000 marks annuities from Germany as proposed by the Young plan and also the conditions for acceptance of the German reservation.

After Dr. Schacht has studied the report he will inform the allied and American delegates when he will be ready to make his reply to a plenary session of the reparation conference.

SAILOR RETURNS AFTER FURLOUGH

Paul R. Walls, son of Mrs. Earl Williams of 732 Cleveland avenue, has returned to his duties abroad the U. S. S. Arkansas, after spending a ten-day furlough with his mother.

FARM CALENDAR

Timely Reminders From The Pennsylvania State College School of Agriculture

Young Trees Growing—The season promises to be very favorable to newly set plantations of forest trees. Survival of larch is most uncertain because the trees started growth early before all of them could be dug at the nurseries. As a result, the needles on many trees were more than half grown out before the trees could be set in the field.

Protect Large Peonies—It is sometimes necessary to stake up the larger flowering peonies. This may be accomplished by using a support encircling the whole plant.

Use Good Herd Sire—Every dairyman should be sure that his herd sire has better breeding than the cows in the herd. In no other practical way can the producing capacity of the herd be increased.

Maintain Chick Health—Clean management is important in growing healthy chicks. Take precautions to prevent carrying disease from mature stock to the chicks on the clothes and shoes of the persons caring for the poultry. Disease may be spread also on poultry equipment and by allowing old and young stock to run together.

Thin Young Vegetables—Usually more vegetable seed is planted than is required for a stand, and thinning is necessary. As soon as the plants are well started and show signs of being crowded, the weakest plants should be pulled out, leaving the best ones standing.

Mow Lawns Often—Lawns should be mowed often during the heavy growing period. Short clippings do not have to be raked up.

Education Pay Farmers—A high school education is worth twice as much as a common school education to the average farmer, and college training worth a third more than a high school education.

Original Letters Written By Great Missionary Given To Memorial Home

(International News Service)

Cornelius H. Patton home secretary on behalf of the Board to the Very Rev. Donald Frazer D. D. of Glasgow, vice chairman of the Scottish National Memorial for Livingstone being erected on the site of his old home at Blantyre, Scotland.

The letters will be placed on permanent exhibition in the Memorial museum, supplement the gifts of thousands of American children who through the board which represents the overseas service of the Congregational churches in the United States are aiding in the restoration of Livingstone's home as a place of pilgrimage of all people. The gift letters contain accounts of native customs, comments on the war between the Boers and Sechle and the slave trade.

These Livingstone letters were presented to the American Board by Charles H. Livingstone of Denver, Colo., son of Charles and nephew of David Livingstone.

Burns Will Have To Serve Year To Get His Freedom

Georgia Governor Will Grant Pardon Only After Prisoner Has Served Year

(International News Service)

ATLANTA, May 24.—A full year must elapse before Robert Elliott Burns will be permitted to file application for executive clemency E. L. Rainey, chairman of the Georgia prison commission stated today.

Governor Hardman previously announced he would consider Burns' application for clemency only in the routine manner—and that he would be guided in his decision by precedent and the recommendation of the prison commission.

Rainey declared that in addition to the year added to Burns' minimum sentence by virtue of his escape a year of servitude on good behavior is required before application for parole.

Burns is wanted here for escaping from a chain gang seven years ago while serving sentence for a petty holdup.

Round-The-World Dog Is Killed

Plan Military Funeral For Only Dog To Ever Fly Around The World

(International News Service)

WEST NYACK, N. Y., May 24.—They'll give Tailwind, the only dog to ever fly around the world, a military funeral tomorrow and blow taps over his adventurous spirit.

You might say Tailwind died for the cause of aviation. The Sealyham terrier accompanied John Henry Mears, his owner, and Capt. C. B. D. Collyer, in their flight around the world. His flying mileage ran into five figures and so such time in the air affected his eardrums. A deaf dog should be especially careful in crossing the road. And Tailwind was proverbially reckless.

Tailwind was a great friend of the children of John Wray actor and Oscar Dike. He was on his way across the road to see them when one of those vehicles which ignore pedestrian dogs swept down on him.

The youngsters ran out to the unmoving bundle of white in the road. They cried for him to speak to them. But Tailwind couldn't hear.

House And Senate Are Deadlocked On Debenture Plan

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 24.—The conference between house and senate on the new farm bill continued deadlocked today over the debenture plan.

The houes conferees for the fourth time told their senatorial colleagues they would not take the debenture back to their branch for a vote. The senate conferees meanwhile pleaded for consideration of other portions of the bill but the house confereas demanded the climination of the debenture first.

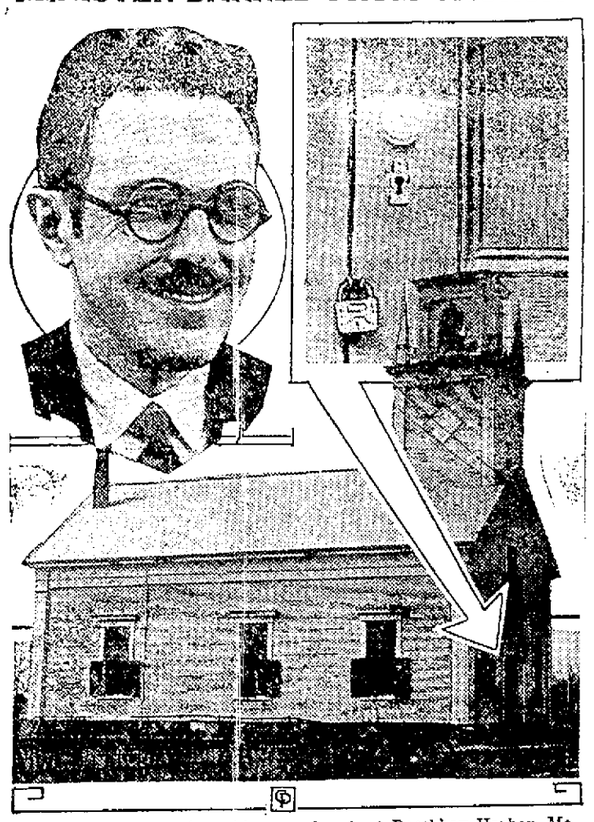

They will meet again tomorrow, though there appeared little likelihood of an early settlement.

A MATTER OF FEET.

"So you're a young man with both feet in the ground ,eh? What do you do for a living?"

MINISTER BARRED FROM CHURCH

Although padlocked from his own church at Boothbay Harbor, Me., the Rev. Earl A. Spencer asserts he will carry on with loyal followers. He had objected to grange dances next door to parsonage and got into altercation with a deacon's son, preferring assault charges against him. He declared parishioners' meeting at which discharge was voted was irregularly held and refused to surrender pastorate. Left, above, the Rev. Earl A. Spencer; right, one of the padlocks on the Boothbay Baptist church, below.

DRY AGENT PLAYS ROLE OF ROMEO

As a Romeo, Willard Mogland was all that a prohibition agent should be. When his Juliet's husband, Peter Anzalone, turned up with objections to the attention Mogland was paying his wife, the dry agent, who is under suspension, charged with misconduct, is accused of slugging Anzalone and throwing him in jail as a bootlegger. Peter's wife, Comelia, is shown above.

CONNEAUT LAKE PARK, Pa., May 24.—W. R. Kirk, of Monessen today was the new president of the Western Pennsylvania Retail Druggists. He was elected last night at the close of the 31st annual convention here.

William Hoffman, of Beaver Falls, was named vice president; E. H. Sonne, of Oil City, was elected treasurer; and W. L. Wagner, of Pittsburgh, was chosen secretary.

A banquet and ball, at which the new officers were installed, brought the sessions to a close.

SMART LAD.

The milk inspector was on the lookout for a case. He waylaid the rather diminutive apprentice of the local dairyman and after a friendly remark or two said causally.

"Tell me, does your employer ever put anything into his milk before he sells it to his customers?"

"He always does" replied the boy, with a grin.

The inspector smacked his lips approvingly. From an inside pocket he produced a bulky notebook.

"What does he put in the milk?"

The small boy considered the matter before replying.

"Well" said the boy, "before he sells any milk to anybody he allus puts the measure in. He has to!"

PROHIBITION CUTS COLORADO RYE CROP

(International News Service)

In 1918, 149,000 acres were planted, and the crop sold at prices as high as $1.46 per bushel. Both the price and the acreage began a decline, however until the year 1928 only 74,000 acres were planted and the crop sold for prices as low as 60 cents per bushel.

Big Skyscraper In Wall St. On Reclaimed Land

Foundation Must Be Sunk 100 Feet To Solid Rock Beneath Old River Bed

DIFFICULT TASK IS NOW UNDER WAY

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 24.—What engineers consider the most difficult and hazardous caisson task since the construction of the old St. Louis arch by Captain Eads in 1873 and the more recent erection of a bridge at Bath, Me., by the Boston and Maine railroad is under way at 120 Wall street where a 33-story skyscraper is being built at a cost of $12,000,000 by David M. Malzman and Henry Greenberg, young financiers.

Inasmuch as the building is being constructed on reclaimed land that was once part of the East River, it will be necessary for 200 "sand-hogs," working in squads of four in fifty-one caissons, to dig down almost 100 feet in order to reach a solid rock foundation below the old river bed.

Under Air Pressure

Each of the fifty-one working chambers will be supported by 45 pounds of air pressure per square inch, the heaviest pressure ever generally applied to building construction. Captain Eads used 50 pounds for his workmen at a depth of 125 feet on the St. Louis Bridge but improper handling of the chambers resulted in 14 deaths and 119 cases of the dreaded "bends," the disease that grips drivers who are hauled too quickly to the surface. Fifty pounds is considered the maximum practical pressure under which a human can labor, according to engineers.

However, modern science has so perfected the present-day working chamber that no lives were lost on the Bath, Me., job where 50 pound pressure also was used.

Years ago the East River shore-line was extended out three blocks from lower Manhattan by a filling in process that required the sinking of hundreds of old barges loaded with scrap iron. Sailing and obsolete war vessels were scuttled and other bulky objects were thrown into the river over which a surface of sand and dirt was spread, forming hundreds of acres of what is today some of the most valuable business property in the world.

The Biggest Job

The new building will be the largest task ever attempted in the reclaimed areas so far from the original shoreline.

Sandhogs sinking the caissons for the Wall Street skyscraper will find it necessary to pierce this layer of sunken ships before reaching the original river silt and mud stratas. Numerous relics will be recovered from the mud stratas, Carlton S. Proctor, consulting engineer said.

With practically no office space available on Wall Street today, the new building will add 500,000 square feet of office to a street which is considered the most sought after business address in the country.

Will Make Tests To Learn Deer Damage

HARRISBURG, May 24.—Arrangements have been completed between the Department of Forests and Waters and the Game Commission for setting aside a number of areas on state forest land for the purpose of investigating damage to trees caused by deer.

Two areas will be designated in the same locality, one fenced and the other unfenced. The unfenced area will be definitely marked and the corner markers so concealed as not to cause undue influence upon the deer either to scare them or arouse their curiosity. A careful study is to be made of each area and records and photographs taken to present growth conditions.

The data will be collected by representatives of both departments and where planting is necessary the seedlings will be furnished from the state forest tree nurseries. One of the areas is to be located at Pine Grove Furnace in an open space where forest tree planting will be made both inside and outside of the fence. White pine, Scotch pine and Norway spruce will be planted. Another area will be in Clearfield county near the Clearfield forest tree nursery in an area now heavily grazed by deer. A forest tree planting with the three above named species will be made. In this location particularly it is desired to include if possible, both within and without the fence, some area on which mountain laurel is found. Another area is to be located in the Seven Mountains in he Logan forest district where planting is being conducted on both the open and enclosed areas. Another area will be chosen in the Pocono region in the Delaware forest district and another in Potter county in the Susquehanna forest district which will include natural tree growth and laurel. The fences surrounding the enclosed areas will be seven feet six inches in height and will enclose approximately an acre.

Roaming Round With Richards

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle

After braving the raucous remarks of the boys on the corner, concerning one red feather which is perched at somewhat of an angle in my hat, perhaps a small explanation is necessary.

The feather is red, very red. It is also representative of something. Further, it comes from Ellwood City. And lastly, if you must get ecclesiastic nor everybody can wear one of them.

This one cost $25. That is, it cost Milt Bickett $25, and I got it from him. Milt lives in Ellwood City and has kicked in on the hospital drive down there, like most every other Ellwood City citizen has.

Contributing to the hospital fund is "feather in the cap" for Ellwood in this campaign and that's the answer to that.

There are so many red feathers in hats down there that it looks as though there had been a wholesale slaughter of Rhode Island Reds to satisfy the folks. Every man looks like an Alpine Chasseur, and the women like chasseuresses or whatever the feminine plural is.

There may be some people in Ellwood City who have no feather in their cap, but these folks are not showing themselves. The hospital drive is one that has the support of the people, but even at that there are folks who wouldn't go along with such a thing.

You have to expect that. Some people like sugar on tomatoes, and others play the saxophone. It wouldn't be surprising, therefore, if there were a few who didn't contribute to the new hospital. Aside from the very few, the drive is hitting on all six, with H. R. Smith in the driver's seat.

Saw something else very red yesterday. Walter McAnaney has painted his car red. Not a respectable, cheery red, but a scandalous red. One that shrieks at you as you pass, a red that looks as though 14 people had had their throats cut right in the car and the car was stained with the blood. Three shades darker would have been easy on the eye, and three shades lighter would have been pink. But the color he has looks like a third alarm fire, and almost yells at you as you pass.

From the reports drifting in from the Eats Side there may be some action upon a playground or ball diamond for the youngsters up there. Jess Jenkins is getting interested and has already made an informal survey of the district.

Here in the city we may complain about the weather—and who hasn't?—but out in the districts where the robins provide the noise, this weather seems to have brought the wild plants and flowers along.

In the Kennedy's Mills district, the trilliums are out. Not just a few, but thousands of them, a regular carpet of them, with their large graceful leaves and their near orchid coloring.

I do not know whether trilliums are the poor relations of orchids or not, but their coloring seems to have some relation. If trilliums were as scarce as orchids, or cost five dollars per each copy, the chances are that they would be popular with fastidious ladies. But they're not, they grow wild, profusely, and are just "pretty". To be beautiful, gorgeous or exotic they would have to be raised under glass and cost about $12 per bouquet.

With trilliums comes the open season for picnics when there is no law against shooting potato salad or meat loaf.

Bleating about this weather will not raise or lower the temperature a whit, but it does seem to me as if the weatherman would snap out of it for May Day tomorrow. It will be tough enough sitting on bleachers in such weather as today, but guess what it would be like tramping around in the wet grass, garbed like a wood nymph or a sea sprite.

Indiana Man Wins High British Honor

Mere Youth Accorded High Honor Won By Six Other Americans

VALPARAISO, Ind., May 24.—To Everett R. Cooper, 22, of Le Porte, a student at Valparaiso University here, has fallen the signal honor of being elected a member of the British Royal Academy of Arts as a doctor of oratory. He is the youngest member the Academy has ever had.

Young Cooper's oratorical ability was drawn to the attention of a prominent Englishman visiting in America. Cooper received notice of his election in a personal letter from the Duke of Marlborough, who wrote that the Valparaiso man had been proposed for membership by Sir William Halg, the Earl of Salisbury.

Only six other Americans have been elected to membership in the Royal Academy since 1846. They are John C. Calhoun, Charles Sumner, Samuel L. Clements (Mark twain), William Jennings Bryan, William Arnold Forner and Robert M. La Follette.

Firearms Bureau Needed In Chicago

Recent Gangland Massacre Develops Need For Expert Along Line

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, May 24—Chicago should have a fire-arms identification bureau presided over by a competent man, in the opinion of Major Calvin Goddard, New York expert on ballistics, who was called here in connection with the inquest into the gangland massacre of seven men.

"This man should be familiar with all types of small arms in common use, with knowledge of calibers, mechanisms and methods of manufacture," Major Goddard said. "He should have a similar knowledge of cartridges commonly used, bullets, primers, powders and such.

"He should be skilled in the use of the microscope, particularly the comparison microscope and other instruments of precision in examining exhibits. He should be skilled also in the science of photography.

"To make his work of value such a director would need specimens of unfired bullets, shells and cartridges of all makes, both American and foreign."

Major Goddard believes that bullets fired from a gun have impressions on them which definitely identify them as having been fired from that gun and no other.

Enjoy the present day, trusting very little to the morrow. Horace.

Britain Aiding Film Industry Fight America

Many Restrictions Removed In Effort To Aid British Movie Makers In Battle

PERMIT FILMING OF SCOTLAND YARD

By KINGSBURY SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, May 24.— The British government is doing everything possible to aid the British film industry in its struggle for existence alongside American competition.

Having passed the famous quota bill in the hope that the inflow of American pictures would be restricted sufficiently to enable British interests to get a hold on the market, the government has now taken steps to assist in the production and distribution of British films. For the first time film companies are to be allowed legally to take scenes in London, and Scotland Yard will assist the producers in the taking of these scenes if necessary.

Remove Restrictions

Up to this month there has been a restriction against "shooting" films in London streets and the police have been instructed to move on those attempting to do so. The strict enforcement of this restriction brought loud protests from the various film companies who complained that they could not hope to compete with foreign films when the authorities hampered their production.

Thus, the Home Office finally decided that they should be given the virtual freedom of the city, so now producers can film London to their heart's content.

Camera cars may shortly be seen whirling around Piccidilly Circus or shooting murder scenes under Nelson's column in Trafalgar Square, while the majority of "movie" wedding scenes will probably be taken with Westminister Cathedral as a background.

Make New Demands

Distributors, aware of the ease with which they and the producing companies secured the passage of the Quota Bill, demanded recently that in view of what has been done for producers, something more should be done to increase distribution, especially in the dominions.

As a result, the secretary of state for the Colonies has appointed a special committee to investigate the best methods for encouraging the exhibition of British films throughout the Empire, in other words, to aid the British film industry in its fight to compete with Hollywood.

This is openly admitted by the chairman of the committee, Captain W. Brass, Conservative member of Parliament, who says:

"In many of the colonies with which we have to deal the people now see American films only. It is not a good thing that the natives should get their ideas of western civilization only from American films.

"I think some of the American films shown to the natives have had adverse effects and have tended to give natives a wrong impression of white people. I have heard complaints on this score of some of the films that have been shown in Africa especially.

Lump Of Ambergris Is Found In Whale

New Zealand Youths Find Piece Worth Around $50,000

(International News Service)

LONDON, May 24.—The greed of a whale which died from acute indigestion has provided London with the largest lump of ambergris yet seen by dealers.

It weighs about 225 pounds, and is worth nearly $50,000. For perfumery purposes it is worth anything up to $25 per ounce.

This record lump was found on a New Zealand beach by two brothers, who will make a small fortune by the discovery.

Ambergris is the product of the sperm whale's fondness for cuttlefish. He cannot digest the beak of the cuttlefish, so the beaks accummulate and set up irritation, which causes the ambergris to form, eventually the whale distends, becomes ill and blows up. The ambergris floats away and it may be years before it is washed ashore.

Paris Police Force Hundred Years Old

(International News Service)

PARIS, May 24.—The Paris Police Force is just one hundred years old.

The centenary of the Blue Coats of Paris was just celebrated by a brilliant ceremony, at which Monsieur Doumergue, President of the Republic and Monsieur Poincare presided.

The Force received the Gold Medal of the City of Paris which was handed to Monsieur Chiappe, the popular prefect, as a mark of the esteem with which the community regards this branch of the municipal service. Under the regime of Monsieur Chiappe great strides have been made in the handling of traffic that has attained a commendable efficiency which the public have been the first to appreciate.

The slow march of civilization hasn't abolished much of anything except cotton stockings.

Victims Of Hay Fever Should Not Delay Relief

"Before many weeks have elapsed a definite number of Pennsylvania's citizens will be wheezing and sneezing, victims of so-called hay fever. And while they are thus suffering and waiting for that distant event of a 'fall frost' they will get little relief from any source. Therefore, on the surface, the lot of the hay fever subject appears to be a hard one," said Dr. Theodore B. Appel, State Secretary of Health, today.

"As a matter of fact, science has developed a quite successful method to combat this seasonal affliction. To begin with, only that comparatively small minority of individuals who possess an unusual sensitiveness to the pollens of certain plants, weeds, grasses and trees are ever subject to hay fever. And this fact has made possible the development of counteracting serum.

"In order to make this modern treatment effective it is necessary to discover the particular pollen that is causing the disturbance. This calls for a visit to a physician who is prepared to make tests with extracts of pollens that may be logically suspected of causing the trouble in the particular case.

"The test is exceedingly simple as well as painless. By way of needle prick a bit of each extract finds its way under the skin. The particular extract that causes a slight local reaction quite definitely fixes the offender. Then innoculations of that type are administered.

"The success in this therapy lies in establishing immunity before the pollen season. Afterwards is likely to be too late. Therefore, it behooves all hay fever sufferers to take advantage of this scientific weapon without delay. It may not be effective, or perhaps merely partially so, but the percentage of successes is sufficiently high to test this treatment. Get the edge on hay fever before it gets the edge on you.

Not In Market To Buy Pennies

Indian Head Coins Are Worth Just One Cent Each To Chicagoan

CHICAGO, May 24.—Be it known that the Chicago World's Fair in 1933 is not in the market for Indian head pennies with which to pave its floors.

This innocent fact became news today because of the unexplained barrage of inquiries received by the World's Fair commission, offering to supply pennies and inquiring the premium. Banks have been put to inconvenience by customers trading in bank notes for pennies—and specifying the Indian head variety. William Martin Grampp of New York wrote that he understood the Fair would pay 5 cents for every Indian head cent. An Indian head penny is worth just one cent to the World's Fair, and the commission would like someone to explain who started it all.

Council To Take Care Of Sewer Situation Here

Purchase Machine To Clean Out Sanitary And Storm Sewers This Morning

MANY COMPLAINTS HAVE BEEN RECEIVED

City council, at their meeting this morning, voted to purchase a turbine sewer cleaner at once to take care of the task of cleaning out the sanitary and storm sewers of the city, which at present are in bad shape.

The matter was climaxed when Robert Whitla appeared before council, complaining of a condition which exists at present on Highland avenue, in the vicinity of Leasure avenue, where an obstruction in the sewer causes sewage to back into a home owned by Mr. Whitla, causing a distressing condition.

Mr. Whitla stated that the condition was caused by by-passing part of the sanitary sewer system into a storm sewer there, and that he had taken the matter up with the state department and would take legal action unless the situation was remedied. He stated that in the summer time, when there are few rains, the storm sewer does not carry off the sewage adequately, and that a terrible odor arises.

Council, in an effort to remedy the situation of sewer stoppages, has ordered property owners along Highland avenue to remove all poplar trees, whose roots spread below the surface and creep into the sewers.

In addition they expect to construct two manholes at Leasure and Winter avenue, and City Engineer Frank Miller was instructed to view the situation and make recommendation to council, not only for manholes at this point, but in other districts where needed.

She sewage cleaning machine will be purchased from the Turbine Sewer Machine Co. of Milwaukee at a cost of $1,580, a demonstration having been promised by the company before the purchase is made final, a cost of 15 cents per lineal foot being made, which will be applied on the purchase of the machine if it proves satisfactory.

Several ordinances were introduced into council this morning.

New Ordinances

One would require all persons storing automobiles for pay to secure a city license. This license will cost nothing, the law being proposed for the benefit of the police department so that they will have knowledge of where these various parking stations are located.

Another ordinance was introduced prohibiting the depositing of any substance or material on the streets and alleys of the city which will cause damage thereto.

Another ordinance will provide a reward for information to the city relative to damage to city property by any person. It is aimed at destruction done to property of the city in the city parks and similar places.

An ordinance was introduced providing for a storm sewer along Carl street, from Grimes street to Big Run.

Council voted to enter into a contract with William Allen for rental of a lot near Neal street for the storing of city property.

Reject Bids

Bids were rejected for the resurfacing of North Crawford avenue on motion of Mr. Reeves, and the city clerk was instructed to readvertise for bids for the same. Council had called for bids on the project and a low bid of $2,735 had been offered by Woods & Golder. However, council found that the specifications would call for merely a "patching job", and a permanent job was desired.

Formerly resurfacing contracts were let by the square yard, but under the present system it is done on a tonnage basis. The present contract called for use of 100 tons of material, which would provide for a coating about a half inch in thickness, whereas at least three-quarters of an inch is needed to make a lasting job. Specifications will call for the latter.

Contract of W. E. Ferry for the construction of a storm sewer between Sheridan and Euclid avenue was approved by council and bond in the sum of $2,815 for performance of the task was referred to Solicitor White for approval.

Never yet have the people scorned a law that was applied to the rich as well as the poor.

Atlantic Fliers Likely To Start Race Tomorrow

FLIGHTS TO EUROPE CAREFULLY PLANNED

(International News Service)

OLD ORCHARD, Me., May 24.—Intrepid crews of two airplanes, prepared for an aerial argosy across the broad Atlantic, eagerly scanned the skies today as they awaited weather reports favorable for their daring venture. The prospect this morning was that the heralded trans-Atlantic race would start tomorrow.

Roger Williams and Lewis Yancey, pilot and navigator of the American monoplane Green Flash, definitely postponed the start of their 4,000-mile hop to Rome until tomorrow, following reports that squalls are still blowing at sea. A strong east wind whipped the Maine coast last night and the Green Flash is in its hangar.

The French plane, the Yellow Bird, flown here last evening from Roosevelt field, Long Island, by Jean Assollant and Rene Lefevre, the 24-year-old war fliers, was too large to be lodged in any of the hangars here and was staked out on the beach for the night, with the engine tarpaulined for protection from the elements. Armeno Lotti, backer and chief pilot of the flight, was due here by train this morning and the trio will take off for Brest and Paris as soon as weather conditions are favorable. A special weather report was to be received here early this afternoon.

The Americans will fly south to the 40th parallel then east to Europe while the Frenchmen will follow a great circle course to Newfoundland and then over the Atlantic.

Strike Sympathizers Homes Fire Damaged

(International News Service)

ELIZABETHTOWN, Tenn., May 24.—The recent period of calm in the textile strike zone was broken early today when the home of two strike sympathizers were burned to the ground. James Russell and Jim Hampton, strikers were the occupants.

Union officials are searching the section populated by the strike breakers and the workers who have returned to the American Bemberg Glantzstoff mills for the "fire bug." The mills reopened April 15 on a "open shop' basis following the walkout of 5,500 employes.

Miss Marjorie Wettich is the winner of this semester's United States history essay contest conducted among the seniors of the senior high school by the local chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, F. L. Orth, principal, made known today.

As a result of her winning the contest, Miss Wettich will receive $10 in gold from the D. A. R. chapter at the formal presentation, which always comprises a part of the commencement night program.

"The Beginning of the United States Navy" was the subject upon which the history students competed this semester. Each semester the theme is changed, and at the January commencement the local chapter of the Daughters of 1812 made the presentation.

When the presentation is made on the evening of June 6 it will mark the 27th time the D. A. R. has made the award. A subject bearing upon the history of the United States during the Revolutionary period is selected by the chapter and then it is placed before the students. A committee of judges selected by the chapter determine the winner.

Titanic Battle For Rail Stock Is In Prospect

Two Sets Of Cleveland Ohio Brothers Battle For Wheeling And Lake Erie Control

RAILROADS FAVOR VAN SWERINGENS

Interstate Commerce Commission To Hear Facts In Case At Hearing On June 5th

By HARRY WARD
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 24.—A titanic battle for the possession of a railroad will be fought here on June 5 before the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The prize is the Wheeling & Lake Erie railroad, a 512-mile line extending between Toledo, Cleveland and Wheeling. The contestants are two sets of Cleveland bothers—O. P. and M. J. Van Sweringen and F. E. and Charles F. Taplin. Both groups are militant. And a battle royal for a rich prize in prospective consolidation plans is expected.

Fight To Finish

The Van Sweringens, through their Nickel Plate road, have applied to the commission for authority to acquire the Wheeling & Lake Erie through purchase of capital stock. To finance it they are asking authority to issue and sell 67,333 shares of common and a like amount of preferred of the Nickel Plate.

The Taplins have also filed an application to acquire the Wheeling as a complement to their Pittsburgh & West Virginia system.

The powerful influence of the New York Central and the Baltimore & Ohio will be arrayed on the side of the Van Sweringens in their effort to get the Wheeling & Lake Erie. The Wabash, said to be controlled by the Pennsylvania system, has been permitted to intervene in opposition to the Van Sweringen proposal. Other interests, not yet disclosed are expected to line up on one side or the other.

Government Interested

In the meantime the government has stepped in tow find out something about the legality of Wheeling & Lake Erie stock holdings by the Allegheny Corporation, one of the Van Sweringens holding companies. The Interstate Commerce Commission, at the instance of Attorney General Mitchell is making an investigation. The commission is understood to have held a conference yesterday on the subject but failed to reach any conclusion. Further conferences will be held this week, it was indicated.

When the commission ordered the Baltimore & Ohio, New York Central and Nickel Plate to divest themselves of their holdings each of 17 per cent in Wheeling & Lake Erie stock, the two former roads sold their holdings to the Van Sweringens' Allegheny Corporation, the Nickel Plate retaining its holdings, after asking the commission for a stay in its order for divestment. No action has yet been taken on the Nickel Plate's motion for a stay.

The Taplin brothers are said to hold 41 per cent of Wheeling & Lake Erie stock and they are wrangling in Cleveland with the Van Sweringens for control of the board of the Wheeling.

Tex Rickard's Friends Honor His Name With Memorial Auditorium

By Central Press.

HENRIETTA, Tex., May 24.—Within the shadow of a tumble down shack which once was Tex Rickard's home a $150,000 memorial auditorium to the memory of the late sports promotor is to be erected here by his former friends. Some of them, still living here cherish fond memories of Rickard when he was a hard-riding cowboy and a straight-shooting city marshal in these parts.

Plans for the memorial are rapidly nearing completion. Behind the move is an organization known as the Tex Rickard Memorial association formed recently with A. H. Bevering pioneer Clay county resident, and said to be the oldest living friend of the late promoter, as president. Three active vice presidents were named the first of whom is Jack Dempsey, former heavyweight champion of the world and successor to Rickard in the promoting field. The other two are C. G. McKinney, president of the Henrieta Chamber of Commerce and Frank Holaday, an attorney.

Mrs. Rickard Treasurer.

Mrs. Tex Rickard is treasurer of the association and sole trustee of the funds to be used in building the auditorium. A board of directors consisting of 42 prominent northwest Texans has been named.

Plans for the memorial have been completed and final details including the architect's drawing have been forwarded to Mrs. Rickard for approval.

The memorial auditorium when completed will seat aproximately 3,000 people. One room of the structure will be set aside as a Rickard sanctuary where relics of the late promoter will be gathered.

Tex Rickard known here in the old days as "Dink" came with his parents to Clay county from Missouri in 1875 settling at Cambridge a hamlet about three miles east of here. Two years later the family moved to Henrietta. The process of moving was a difficult one involving the removal also of the family cabin for lumber was scarce on the barren Texas plains.

Jesse James a Visitor.

It is in this house that visitors are led today. In it Rickard grew up to manhood in a wild sector of the country principaly inhabited by cowmen. Rickard's next door neighbor was Allen H. Palmer now dead a brother-in-law of Frank and Jesse James. Visits of the latter to Henrietta are recalled today by oldtimers who tell of the sudden desertion of the streets when the alarm went around that "the James boys are coming."

"Dink" Rickard cowboy and farm hand was made city marshal in Henrietta early in the nineties resigning this position in 1897 when the roaming fever got him and he set out with Will Slack a comrade for the Klondike. After three years in the Alaska gold fields Rickard returned here but only for a few months. He then left for other fields. His Henrietta friends saw him during his periodic visits to his Texas home.

Jordan To Speak Here On Sunday

Secretary Of Agriculture To Occupy Central Church Pulpit In Evening

SPECIAL SPEAKER IN MORNING ALSO

James C. Hazelton will speak in the Central Presbyterian church Sabbath morning at 11 a. m.

He has just returned from a thorough inspection of work done by Near East Relief throughout the Bible lands including the refugee settlements and camps of Macedonia and the orphanages in Greece, Turkey, Syria, Palestine and Egypt, where he centered his attention on the present and future welfare of the orphan children.

Mr. Hazleton has been in close touch with the affairs of the Near East during the past several years. He is a licensed minister and has spoken from the pulpits of all denominations in behalf of Near East Relief orphans.

His sincerity of purpose and devotion to these little ones, his sacrifices in their behalf as well as his first-hand insight into the progress and results of the work vouch for a very satisfactory presentation of this worthwhile cause.

Dr. Chas. G. Jordan, secretary of agriculture will preach at 7:30 in the evening. Dr. Jordan is always heard with great interest and profit. His last message in this city was heard by an audience of 1,800 in the Cathedral on Thanksgiving day. He comes with a special message for the people of New Castle at this time.

Dr. Chas. B. Wingerd who is with his family at Chautauqua, N. Y., will return early in the week.

University of Utah professor says that 50 per cent of the students cheat at examinations. What surprises us is the intimation that 50 per cent of them study.—The Springfield, Ohio, Daily News.

Star Of Wales Lodge Instructs Local Delegate

Plans Made For Convention In Rome, N. Y.; Other Welsh News Notes

(By WILLIAM A. JOHNS, Brython.)

A very interesting meeting of Star of Wales lodge No. 60, True Ivorites of America was held last Saturday evening when Thomas Grey the president presided and William H. Jones filled the vice president's chair.

A communication was read from the grand secretary of the order, Charles T. Williams, Rome N. Y., in which there was mention of a number of new things that will be brought before the annual convention of the order which will be held next August in this city under the auspices of Martha lodge of this city.

The lodge instructed its delegate John Harvard how to vote on the different matters brought to its attention in the letter of the grand secretary.

Messrs. John Harvard, Evan Hopkins and Isaac Isaacs rendered their report of the sick members of the lodge, such as Edward Gibbon, William C. Lewis, Griffith M. Jones, Thomas Perrot and Samuel Francis.

A letter came to hand this week from the Welsh Veteran Thomas Edwards of Pico, Cal., stating that all the family were in the best of health and every one of them employed at the present time. Mr. Edwards is himself working in the creamery factory. Clifford the youngest boy is working as an instructor at the Y. M. C. A. in Los Angeles, while Miss Katherine the daughter is the health inspector for the school board of that part of the country. Edith the other daughter is looking after the home and John S. Stock Market Is Lacking In Snap

Wall Street Derives Very Little Satisfaction From Reserve Board Ruling

By W. S. COUSINS
International News Service Financial Editor

NEW YORK, May 24.—Wall Street derived very little satisfaction from the action of the reserve board in refusing to sanction a 6 per cent rediscount rate for the New York and Chicago banks. Though industrial stocks rose to a slightly higher level of prices in irregular trading today, the market lacked the snap and enthusiasm which would have been displayed had not other worries been forced upon the big financial district. The stern realities have been forced upon so many of the small-fry traders that they are not nearly as jubilant over "easy money in the stock market" as they were a month or so ago.

Good recoveries in the motor stocks brought prices of the active shares 1 to 3 points above Friday's close. At 77 Chrysler, which has borne and brunt of heavy selling for nearly three weeks, was up 3 1-2 points for the day and 7 points above yesterday's low. General Motors recovered a point or so and Packard 2 1-2. According to rumors filtering into the financial district, the motor car manufacturers are having some difficulty in disposing of their cars at this time.

Steel industry heads at the institute's annual meeting here today painted a glowing picture of present and prospective conditions in the steel mills was the prospect held out by James Farrell, Charles Schwab and other steel giants.

Thirty Mass Meetings Called In Various Sections Of Chicago For Sunday

CHICAGO, May 24.—In its fight against crime, Chicago today turned to prayer.

Chicago's churches, planning a concerted drive to stir church members into action against crime and lawlessness, today sponsored approximately thirty mass meetings Sunday night in every section of the city, with speakers of note to address the gatherings.

Dean Shailer Mathews, president of the association for the United church movement, cited the "frankness of Chicago" in admitting its faults in civic government and called upon every church group, every civic club of every community, to join in the cooperative drive to get behind political leaders and city, county and state officials pledged to civic decency.

Council Hears Many Complaints

Council heard a number of complaints from citizens this morning in regard to different matters.

Sam Ginsberg of Moravia street complained that the contractors had left Moravia street in bad shape, and that within the past three months he has had two plate glass windows broken by machines hurling stones through them from beneath tires of the cars.

The city engineer was instructed to notify the contractors to clean gravel and debris from the street.

On request of Harry Blews, the Arlington avenue Free Methodist church was exonerated of the payment of $52 in interest on a paving lien against the church.

Tough Prisoner Going Straight After Kindness

VICTOR THEN GRANTS PERMIT TO SEE GAME

(International News Service)

DENVER, May 24.—Once known as the "toughest man in the penitentiary" Charles D. (Red) Smith was paroled to City Chaplain Val Higgins after standing trial here recently for traffic in narcotics.

Federal Judge Foster Symes acting both as defense attorney and judge at his trial, because Smith was out of funds and would not enter a petition for an attorney from the court. Judge Symes offered his services out of sympathy. Smith who had pleaded guilty to delivering a package of narcotics for a friend to a customer of the friend's .He said however he was innocent of the contents of the package.

Scoffed at Kindness.

Smith was once a hardened criminal scoffing at kindness and kicking at persons who tried to help him. Finally one day at the Kansas state prison where he was doing time, Smith wanted to attend a baseball game between the prison team and an outside team. He was not allowed to go because of bad behavior.

A deputy warden happened to be passing the gate inside of which Smith was sulking. The warden asked Smith if he wished to go to the baseball game. But the hint at kindness made Smith more hot-headed than ever.

"Let me out of here and I will clean up on you" he dared.

The prison warden was quick to take the challenge. The iron door flung open and the meanest man in the prison was tusling with the warden—hand to hand.

Given Surprise.

Smith received the surprise of his life for the end of the scramble left him with two black eyes and a few broken bones. The warden promptly made arrangements for Smith to attend the ball game.

From that day until this Smith has trod the "straight and narrow." He makes his livelihood cleaning houses for wealthy capitol hill residents in Denver and despite all the freedom he is allowed about their homes he has never stolen a single article.

TEN HERBS TONED UP LOCAL MAN'S ENTIRE SYSTEM

New Medicine Banished Stomach Trouble, Nervousness and Other Ills

A vast number of men and women of this section are expressing surprise and even amazement at the way Ten Herbs, the great natural medicine, benefits the whole system. How the ten wonderful herbal ingredients of this new compound goes to the source of stomach, liver, kidney and bowel disorders, rheumatism, neuritis, nervousness and a general weak, rundown condition, is fully explained by the Ten Herbs Man, who is at Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., 30 East Washington Street, this city, where he is daily demonstrating this successful preparation.

"Ten Herbs has greatly toned up my whole system," was the recent statement of Mr. George P. Stewart, 408 Neshannock street, New Castle, to the Ten Herbs Man. "I had been in poor health for a long time and feared I would have to give up my work at the mill and seek lighter work. My stomach was in very bad condition. Everything I ate brought on gas, bloating and retching. Gas arising from undigested food caused pains around my heart. My tongue was badly coated. My liver was not working as Nature intended, and I became subject to headaches and dizzy spells. My nerves were always on edge, and the least thing would cause me to worry and become irritable. My kidneys were disordered. My back ached so badly that I would have to arise several times during the night to get relief. I was bothered with constipation, and although I tried many things, nothing did me any good.

"A neighbor advised me to try Ten Herbs, it having done him a great deal of good. After taking Ten Herbs a while, I am glad to testify to its worth. I can now eat a full meal without being troubled with gas, bloating or retching. My nerves are much better, and headaches have been relieved. I enjoy a good night's rest, without having to arise, and feel refreshed and ready for work when morning comes. My tongue is no longer coated, and my skin looks a great deal healthier."

The Ten Herbs Man is at Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., 30 East Washington street, this city, where he is daily meeting the public and explaining the merits of this medicine.

Latin Language Troubles Turkey

(International News Service)

CONSTANTINOPLE, May 24.—Turks are not finding it easy to accomodate themselves to the results of the decree last December ordering the universal use of Latin instead of Arabic.

Yakub Kardi Bey, noted author and journalist declares that the reform has not only done no good but has produced a serious crisis in education.

Although there is now compulsory attendance at the national schools by both sexes between the ages of 16 and 40 on pain of fine and imprisonment the people, he says appear to be making no serious effort to read.

Most of the newspapers have suffered a reduction of 50 per cent in thir circulations for lack of readers and about 12 periodicals have ceased publication. It is asserted certain newspapers in Constantinople may be forced to close down.

In the country districts things are still worse. Several of the provincial newspapers are selling no more than 500 copies a day and a popular humorous review which formerly sold 25,000 copies weekly has lost 90 per cent of its circulation.

Representatives of the publishing, printing and book selling interests have been sent to Angora as a deputation to place their plight before the government.

'Jay Gould' Worries Denver Reporters

(International News Service)

DENVER, May 24.—Newspaper reporters are described as his principal trouble by Jay Gould, millionaire sportsman of the "east" in general.

On his recent visit to Denver he visited a local pickle factory, placing a large order, and resigned himself to a local hotel. The more persistent reporters were to see him ,the more persistent Gould became that they should not see him. But finally, he admitted his identity.

"Yes, my right name is Jay Gould, but I do not own any railroads. I control no banks and have never been in the divorce court. I am not pursued by any adventuresses, do not know any movie actresses and have never been the victim of a holdup. That's all."

German Autos Pay Highest Tax Rate

BERLIN May 24—During the fiscal year 1928-29 ended March 31, Germans have paid no less than 180 million marks for motor taxes.

Germany's taxation on motor-driven vehicles is among the highest in the world, and is held to be mainly responsible that only a comparatively small part of the German people can afford automobiles.

While the motor schedule for 1927-28 was 156 million marks, the Reich government expects to collect about 200 million for the 1929-30 period. About 1940, the German ministry of finances hopes that the number of automobiles in Germany will have increased to such an extent that motor taxes will contribute about 400 million marks to the annual German budget.

THE NEWS, ONE YEAR, BY MAIL, $5.00

Chinese Revolt Is Threatened

Open Hostilities Between Rival War Leaders Is Predicted In Short While

(International News Service)

LONDON, May 24.—With Marshal Feng-Yu-Hsiang, war lord of central China, expelled from the Kuomintang national political party, actual hostilities between his forces and the Nationalist troops of President Chiang-Kai-Shek are now but a matter of days, according to a Shanghai dispatch to the London Times today.

In dismissing Feng from the party, the central executive committee deprived him of membership of the supreme political body of the state, the council of the central executive committee. The committee ordered a punitive expedition against him.

Unless some truce is arranged the civil war will likely begin in earnest immediately after the ceremonies in connection with the reburial of Sun Yat-Sen, founder of the Chinese republic, which are to take place in Nanking on June 1.

Reports that hostilities have already broken out in Honan province are officially denied, a Peking message to the paper declares.

BODY OF SLAIN MAN FOUND NEAR AUTO ON HIGHWAY

The car was locked, but the ignition key was found in the dead man's pocket. State Patrolman McDermott, drove the car back to this city. When it was found that the man had evidently been murdered Coroner Caldwell notified County Detective William Fleming, Sheriff H. M. Reynolds, the local police department, and State Police Schmidt, Sorok and Paul.

Envelopes Bear Name.

In the man's pockets were found some envelopes that ostensibly contained his name. One envelope had the address "Charles Yauch, 304½ Hazelwood Avenue, City." It was posted at Youngstown, Ohio. Another envelope had the name "Charles D. Yauch, 128 N. Brockway Street, Youngstown, Ohio." It was from the O. T. Company, 113 South Main St., Akron, Ohio. Another envelope from the National Acceptance Company, Youngstown, was addressed "C. D. Yauch, 302 Hazelwood Street, Youngstown."

There was also an unopened letter addressed to Mr. Reginald D. Yauch, Penn Albert Hotel, Greensburg, Pa. It had been returned to the writer at 128 N. Brockway St., Youngstown, O. It contained a circular of Ruth Chapter, No. 7, Order of the Eastern Star, Masonic hall, Hyattsville, Md. There was also a card with the name, "Mrs. L. Diebel Vogely" but no address.

In the letter postmarked Akron, O., The Ohio Transport Company told Mr. Yauch that the correct address of Reginald Donald Yauch is 513 W. Fair St., New Philadelphia, O." The letter evidently referred to the letter wrongly addressed to Greensburg, Pa. It was dated Oct. 29th, 1928.

Bottle Of Moonshine.

There was also found in the car a pint bottle about one third full of moonshine.

With the Hazelwood avenue address County Detective Fleming and the state highway police and patrol left for Youngstown to investigate. In company with Youngstown police they visited the address given, but could not find anybody who knew a man by the name of Yauch. A man who lives in the vicinity was brought to the morgue here, but could not identify the remains. The Brockway address was found after the officers had left for Youngstown and is being investigated today.

Sheriff H.M. Reynolds called up Sheriff Stone of Mahoning county and together they are working on the case.

The man whose body was found was well dressed, in a brown colored suit. He wore a good pair of shoes, nearly new, and a good hat. He was cleanly shaven and a man of good appearance. There is some question as to his nationality. He is believed to be a Finlander or Polish.

Theories Of Crime.

How he came to be murdered is the problem which authorities are now trying to unravel. Was he killed at the spot where his body was found, or was he slain at some other point, and the body brought from Ohio into Pennsylvania?

A peculiar feature of the case is the fact that the car was locked and the ignition key in the man's pocket. If he was shot during a holdup, it would not be likely that he would lock his car before falling over. If he was killed elsewhere and brought to the point where the body was found, why did his assassins take the trouble to lock the car and place the key in his victim's pocket?

There was no blood in the car nor on the roadside where the body was found. This is explained however, by the fact that the bullet wound did not bleed to any great extent. There was blood on the man's undershirt, a spot covering about two inches in diameter. There was also blood on the inside of the victim's vest, but none on the coat either inside or outside. From the outside of the coat there was nothing but the bullet hole. It disclosed that the bullet had not been fired at close range, as there were no signs of powder burns. If the man had been shot by some one sitting in the front seat of the car with him, there would likely have been powder burns.

May Have Taken Car.

Another feature of the case that is not to be overlooked is the fact that there was no driver's license card in the man's pockets, and no car owner's card. It may be that the machine was not that of the driver. Some of the officials think that the man may have been driving a good car, that he was held up, his car taken, and the other car left.

The license number of the car found is being checked up in the hope that it will furnish a clue to the identity of the victim or his assailants.

In addition to the envelopes and papers which were found in the man's pockets there was a watch chain, a one dollar bill and two quarters. If the motive of the murder was robbery the highwaymen missed the watch chain and the change.

Finding of the bottle containing moonshine might throw another angle to the case. It may have been a case in which bootleggers had a part.

Both the local and the Youngstown authorities are at work on the case and hope to make some headway toward solving the mystery today. In the meantime the body is awaiting identification at the morgue here.

Dies Of Hemorrhage

Post mortem held this forenoon throws a little more light on the case. It was found that the bullet has passed directly through the center of the first rib and penetrated the left lung, causing a hemorrhage from which the victim died. The bullet did not touch the heart or arteries. It was found imbedded near the back bone. It was a 22 calibre, and had not been flattened when it penetrated the rib.

The doctors were of the opinion that it might have been fired from a rifle, owing to the force with which it had entered the body. However they were agreed that it might have been fired from a revolver.

Not Instant Death

They were of the opinion that the shot would not have caused instant death. In their opinion the man may have lived an hour or more. If this was the case the victim may have been shot at considerable distance from where the body was found. He may have driven to where the car was parked, stopped it, placed the key in his pocket, and started to alight when he slumped over by the side of the car. The car was stopped near a house, where he may have been going for assistance.

On the other hand he may have been driven to the place where the body was found by some other person, and the key may have been placed in his pocket by the driver to avert suspicion. He may have been dead before he was brought to the place where he was found.

On examination of the car this morning a blood spot was found on the left fender. Indications were that this blood may have come from his mouth, as there were blood stains around his lips.

Authorities are working in Youngstown in an effort to establish definitely the victims identity.

According to a telephone message from Youngstown police headquarters to the local police station, received this afternoon, the dead man may be "George Collins." It was stated that detectives are on their way to New Castle to identify the remains.

Attorneys Protest Sentencing Youth To Reform School

Youngster, Six Years Old, Convicted Of Murdering Playmate In Paintsville, Kentucky

(International News Service)

PAINTSVILLE, Ky., May 24.—Attorneys were prepared to contest in court today the 15-year reformatory sentence imposed on Carl Newton Mahan, six years old, after the boy had been convicted by a jury of Kentucky mountaineers of the murder of his playmate, Cecil Van Hoose, eight.

Defense counsel declared they would argue that the Kentucky statutes contain no provisions for the confinement of a child under 10 years of age in a reform institution.

Little Carl killed his slightly larger chum with a shotgun last Saturday after a quarrel over ownership of a piece of scrap iron.

Mrs. John Mahan, mother of the lad found guilty of manslaughter after the jury had deliberated only half an hour, protested that the son told her he did not know the gun, belonging to his father, was loaded. As soon as the verdict was returned Judge John W. Butcher sentenced Carl to confinement in the reformatory at Greendale until he becomes 21 years old.

Transfer of the boy to Greendale was ordered postponed, however, pending a decision on the appeal.

Chicago Doctor Urges Care For Proud Daddies

Would Provide Hostesses To Entertain Anxious Male Progenitors During Ordeal

SPECIAL QUARTERS ALSO SUGGESTED

By FRANCIS ARMSTRONG
International News Service Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, May 24.—Fatherhood is about to be elevated in the social scheme of hospitals.

Since time immemorial, or even farther back than that, the proud male parent has been an object, if not of scorn, at least of scant interest, when a baby was coming into the world. The mother was the object of all the solicitation, and interest.

But not any more, if Dr. William H. Walsh, former executive secretary of the American Hospital Association, has his way. Noting the abject terror of fathers, subjected to the routine of hospitals which considered them able to take care of themselves during the ordeal of fatherhood, Dr. Walsh has come to the rescue with suggestions that would at least elevate the importance and comfort of the male progenitor.

Special Quarters

Here are some of the suggestions of the eminent hospital authority and humanitarian:

Special quarters should be provided for fathers, in which they may be comfortable, and where they may wait, instead of pacing the halls in the midst of armies of disinterested white coated nurses and internes.

A hostess should be employed by the hospital to entertain the worried parent, to administer to his mental anguish, and to issue the latest bulletins of progress in the operating room.

Fathers, according to Dr. Walsh, have been made the butt of comic strip ridicule long, while in fact their mental anguish was great, and their suffering acute, with slight attention from anyone.

Need Attention

It is time, according to Dr. Walsh, for the hospitals of the nation to become as humane as possible, to cultivate the personal element in their relations with patients, and to become living, vital units instead of mere institutions.

Personal attention, with care for details salving the peace of mind of patrons, means much to the person who enters a hospital, Dr. Walsh believes, and even more could be done than is now attempted.

Fathers, because of their isolated position in the present social scheme of maternity wards, were the first consideration of the hospital authority in his attempt to better human relations between institutions and patients.

President Scraps Another Yacht

Private Yacht Of Secretary Of Navy Scrapped As Unseaworthy

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 24—The U. S. S. Sylph is the second government-maintained as a pleasure yacht to be stripped of its commission since President Hoover entered the White House last month.

The presidential yacht Mayflower was discarded by will of Mr. Hoover at the time he abolished the White House stables. It is being decommissioned at the Philadelphia navy yard.

Retirement of the Sylph maintained in Washington's port for many years as the pleasure craft of the secretary of the navy was NOT pushed aside mainly by Secretary Adams. The Naval Board of Inspection and Survey found the craft was not seaworthy and that its needed repairs would be unwise. Secretary Adams than agreed to "give up the ship."

He said he planned no outings on the Potomac and would not miss the Sylph. He also said he did not plan to have one of his own pleasure yachts commissioned as the navy chief's special craft.

Lonesome Prisoner Peaches On Pal

Accuses Partner Of Crime When Latter Is Lax In Getting Aid

(International News Service)

DETROIT, May 24.—Ten to twenty years is a lonesome stretch—especially when your "pal" goes back on you.

So thought Edward Moore who was sentenced in Dayton, O., following his conviction on a worthless check charge.

Moore took it complacently enough at first—he was satisfied that his "pal" Isadore Schwartz would get things "fixed" on the outside and that his penitentiary stretch would only be temporary.

Two years passed—time enough for any "pal" to get things "fixed." So Moore became rather irked. He ruminated disconsolately over his confinement and decided he needed company. He confessed to police that Schwartz was his partner in crime."

HAVE YOU RHEUMATISM? IT IS ONLY FLAT FEET

(International News Service)

BERLIN, May 24—Many persons who believe they are suffering from rheumatism are merely suffering from flat feet.

This assertion was made by Dr. Schanz of Dresden at the congress of the Germany Society for Combatting Rheumatism at Wiesbaden recently.

Dr. Schanz produced proofs to show that many supposedly rheumatic pains were caused by excessive strain on the feet.

Rheumatism and flat feet, he said, are economically two of the most dreadful plagues because, nationally considered, they are responsible for an enormous loss of labor hours every year.

Annual Sale Of Poppies To Be Held Tomorrow

High School Girls Will Make Annual Distribution On Streets Of City

MONEY RECEIVED AIDS DISABLED MEN

Proceeds of the eighth annual Buddy Poppy sale to be held in New Castle tomorrow by the Harry L. McBride Post. No. 522, Veterans of Foreign Wars will be used exclusively for the betterment of conditions among disabled ex-service men and their dependents without reference to color, creed and nationality.

Several hundred high school girls will aid the post in conducting the annual sale and more than 15,000 poppies are expected to be distributed.

In addition to supplying aid for comrades in distress in the matter of temporary sustenance, emergency medical or hospital treatment, military funerals for deceased veterans and veterans bureau laison work the proceeds of the annual Buddy Poppy sale also contribute to another worthy cause.

One cent from the sale of each poppy is contributed to the maintenance and development of the V. F. W. National home at Eaton Rapids Mich. This home is used as a refuge for the orphans of deceased comrades and other ex-service men. The V. F. W. Home is providing these children with all the comforts available including clothes, education and eventually a vocation that will permit them to make their own way.

Then, too, part of the money derived from the sale goes to the disabled men in the hospitals who have made these poppies. This is the only means of making a living provided for most of these men which is not an extensive one.

In purchasing a poppy tomorrow you are aiding to "Honor the dead by helping the living" the slogan of the V. F. W. Poppy sale since its inception.

THE GOODNESS

of old-time cooking . . . in an easy, modern way

WHEN housewives of Colonial days ladened their tables with savory, steaming, Dutch-oven dishes, they set traditions of good cooking that only the Westinghouse "Flavor Zone" oven can equal. For this most modern of electric ovens cooks by the same method that produced the crackling brown roast turkeys, fragrant gingerbread, rich baked beans and spicy puddings of long ago. It first browns the food to perfection, then cooks it to wonderful tenderness, without any watching or tending during the whole cooking process.

You can put the entire evening meal in the cold oven when you are clearing up after lunch — or during the morning, if you want most of the day free from household duties. Then you set the clock and adjust the thermostat on the oven door.

The current comes on automatically at just the right time. At just the right temperature, it is automatically shut off. Cooking continues by stored heat until everything is done to a turn. Delicious results are certain because every step in the cooking process is controlled with scientific precision. And you can always duplicate your best results.

Hoover Likely To Get Senate Approval On Conservation Of Oil

New Oil Conservation Policy Attacked As Unconstitutional By Oil Companies

Senate Committee Will Report Next Week In Favor Of President Is Belief

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 24.—Although the administration's new oil conservation policy has been challenged as unconstitutional, President Hoover today seemed likely to receive an early endorsement from the senate on his order terminating oil development in the public domain.

The constitutionality of the president's order will be upheld by a senate judiciary sub-committee, which has just concluded an inquiry into its constitutional aspects. This decision by the sub-committee undoubtedly will be ratified by the senate judiciary committee. The final decision though will be given by the senate itself.

Committee Probes

The president's order first was challenged by attorneys for private oil companies, which hold development rights in the public domain. Subsequently, some of the senate's outstanding constitutional authorities declared the president had exceeded his constitutional powers. The controversy led to Senator Walsh (D) of Montana sponsoring a resolution asking the judiciary committee to investigate and pass upon the constitutionality of the president's action.

A sub-committee, composed of Senators King (D) of Utah, Senator Hastings (R) of Delaware and Senator Burton (R) of Ohio, has studied the question for the last two weeks. It will report next Monday and its finding will be that the president had ample authority to halt public drilling.

This decision, however, will clash with the opinion of such noted constitutional lawyers as King and Walsh. Walsh asserted he was "inclined to believe the president had no constitutional power to issue his order." Other noted senate lawyers have expressed a similar opinion.

Senators Approve.

The president's action meanwhile has had the economic approval of numerous senators, from both parties, and it was challenged only on legal grounds. Senator Nye (R) of North Dakota, chairman of the public lands committee, was one of those endorsing the president's effort to conserve the nation's oil supply.

Attorneys for oil companies, led by former Senator Charles F. Thomas of Colorado, meanwhile have protested to the judiciary committee that the president's order nullified the leasing law. In a brief, Thomas argued that the constitution gave congress alone the power to regulate the public domain. He added that congress had authorized the president to administer certain laws. He contended that the president could not legally abandon such duties but was compelled to carry them out.

1500 BRITISH TO MAKE RELIGIOUS PILGRIMAGE

(International News Service)

VANCOUVER B. C., May 24.—A religious pilgrimage of 1500 Britishers from the Old Land will invade the Dominion of Canada in June "to study the life and work of the Christian church in Canada", according to plans now under way by the Free Church council of Great Britain.

Word received here from the Rev. A. G. Sleep by the Colonial Missionary society in London states that illustrated lectures have been distributed through the British Isles and the worshippers have enrolled from all parts of Great Britain.

GEORGIA MAN WRITING NEW BOOK ABOUT QUAIL

(International News Service)

THOMASVILLE, Ga., May 24.—H. L. Stoddard, who for five years has been making a study of the quail, will shortly go to press with a book on the subject.

A few of the things he has learned about quail, Stoddard says, is that they do not range far from where they are hatched; that many times more eggs and young birds are destroyed than ever reach maturity, and that the bird's greatest enemies are snakes, skunks and o'possums.

Millions of Chinese starving; Kansas wheat farmers worrying about their surplus. How wonderful civilization is.

Never yet, in all history, has law enforcement uplifted a people indifferent to law observance.

Jeremiah's Vision Of Hope

"Brass Tacks" On The Sunday School Lesson

The Golden Text

"THY WORD HAVE I HID IN MY HEART, THAT I MIGHT NOT SIN AGAINST THEE" ◦ Psalm 119:11

By DR. ALVIN E. BELL

As it takes the darkness of night to bring out the brightness of the stars, so those terribly dark days of Jeremiah's ministry before the destruction of Jerusalem and the captivity of Judah in 586 B. C., gave to the nation some of the brightest and most glorious visions of hope of a new era, the visions of which fill so large a place in the prophesies of both Jeremiah and Ezekiel. The nation was tottering on its foundations; many of the people had already been carried away into captivity; the temple was about to crumble into dust and ashes; the immediate prospect was dark and hopeless, but the far visioned prophets of Jehovah looked hopefully to a new and better day.

The Regathering of the Captives.

As plainly as Jeremiah foretold the scattering of the nation he foretold their regathering from their captivity in prophesies fulfilled once in their return from Babylon under Ezre and Nehemiah, and to be fulfilled again at the return of our Lord and the establishment of his Kingdom: "Hear the word of the Lord, O ye nations, and declare it in the isles afar off, and say, He that scattereth Israel will gather, and keep him, as a shepherd doth his flock." "There is hope in thine end, saith the Lord, that thy children shall come again to their own border."

One of the prophet's most difficult tasks was to bring the people to realize and recognize that the fearful judgments falling upon them were the results of their own personal sins. They were attempting to comfort themselves with an old proverb which attributed the blame to former generations, saying, "The fathers have eaten sour grapes, and the children's teeth are set on edge." Jeremiah stoutly denied them the comfort of this explanation of their sorrows and pointed to the day when they would recognize themselves as guilty and truly repent before God and thus make possible their forgiveness and the removal of God's curse of their captivity.

The Law in the Heart.

The prophet furthermore pointed forward to a new day when they would not only not rebel at the law of God they had broken, but would actually come into such inner accord with it that they would no longer be inclined to break it. It would become a part of themselves welling up for expression in conduct, rather than something imposed upon them from without. "This is the covenant that I make with the house of Israel after those days, saith Jehovah: I will put my law in their inward parts, and in their heart will I write it; and I will be their God, and they shall be my people."

The laws of God written upon tables of stone are enforced by the spirit of fear. That was necessary at a certain period of God's dealings with us. However, that was not God's ideal for us. His ideal is reached when through our appreciation of his gift of Jesus Christ we react to his grace with such love and not through external force or fear. The object of the law is such love as to joyfully seek to please him through the inner constraint of love and not through external force or fear. The object of the law is such love as makes law unnecessary. "For the law was given through Moses, grace and truth came through Jesus Christ."

(The international uniform lesson for May 26 is Jeremiah 31:1-40; John 1:17; Hebrews 8:7-13, the subject being "God's Law in the Heart" and the Golden Text Psalm 119:11, "Thy word have I hid in mine heart, that I might not sin against Thee.")

Severe Case Of Indigestion And Constipation Yields To Modern Compound.

MRS. HARRIET WASSON

"Konjola surely worked wonders in my case", said Mrs. Harriet Wasson, 1623 French street, Erie. "I suffered for a long time from stomach trouble. Food did not digest but lay like a lump of ho' lead in my stomach. Often I bloated with gas. Even the strongest laxatives gave me only temporary relief from constination. I suffered from dreadful headaches and back-pains.

"I owe all my new health to Konjola. By the time I had used five bottles all my old troubles were gone. My food digests, gas and bloating are things of the past, and the heavy feeling is gone. I am never bothered by the failure of my bowels to function and the headaches and back pains are gone. I feel like a new woman and I owe it all to Konjola."

Washington College Has Model Dairy

Private Drinking Cups Are Built For Little Bossies

(International News Service)

PULLMAN, Wash., May 24.— It must needs be a well mannered cow that enters the portals of the new Washington Agricultural college cow barn when the $20,000 structure is completed here for the department of dairy husbandy.

The fortunate cows selected to make up the 100 elite bovine occupants of the model dairy must know "Emily Post". Each cow will have her private drinking cup built into her hygenic steel stanchion and she will be compelled to forego the temptation of snatching some hay from her neighbors' ration as it rolls by on roller feed conveyors.

An ultra-sanitary milk house will be a part of the building, providing a dressing room for the hired hands, a private office for the herdsman and an equipment sterilization room. All of which is designed to produce highly educated milk.

Many Churches Being Built In New York City

More Than Eighty Edifices Planned Or Already Under Construction There

MANY MAGNIFICENT BUILDINGS GOING UP

International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, 24.— While Broadway, the street of the bright lights and broken hearts, wines and dines and guffaws at wisecracks, New York City is in the swing of a great church construction movement. More than eighty edifices are planned or actually being built.

All this is going on quietly without fanfare and publicity that has attended the recent trials of two night club hostesses, or the occasional shooting and raids on speakeasies. If the country at large forms the opinion that this is a jazz-age town, so to speak, the conclusion is 100 per cent wrong.

No other city ever has raised so many magnificent places of worship at one time as New York City is doing right now, and the varied church activities of modern times have helped to shape the building plans.

Broadway Temple

One edifice, the Broadway Temple, is to be the world's greatest skyscraper church. It will cost no less than $6,000,000. Two apartment houses form a part of the finished design and help support the church. Between them will rise Temple Tower, housing the congregation—thirty-one floors of offices or hotel space. And, above all, the Commander Byrd beacon, a radiant cross, will be visible from a distance of thirty-five miles at sea.

Visitors from foreign shores, coming into port at night, will see this symbol of Christianity long before they are able to see the Statue of Liberty. The beacon will be the greatest single church advertisement, perhaps, in existence.

Another splendid structure is the church of eHavenly Rest on Upper Fifth Avenue. It is an immense Gothic edifice. Yet it is entirely modern in Character, with a great rose window framed in the same stone that makes up most of the building.

The Temple Emanu-el, also on Upper Fifth Avenue, is an adaptation of early Romanesque, with sweeps of almost unornamented wall surfaces and an impressive portal almost three-forths the facade's height.

Work On Cathedral

And, on Morningside Heights, the Cathedral of St. John the Divine, the third largest church in the world, is taking form.

There are many other splended structures nearing completion, or contemplated. Never has the program of church folk been so ambitious. New York's church building impetus has reached its highest development in the superb, traditionally Gothic structure, witth massive wall, columned arches and pinnacled tower.

The significance of the expansion of religion in the shadow of Broadway becomes even more obvious when it is recalled that Brooklyn, just across the bridge, is known as "The City of Churches."

Denver Publisher Aids Music Lovers

Guest Instructors Will Be Brought To City By Citizen

DENVER, May 24.—Musicians of Colorado will have an opportunity here this summer to study their art under the instruction of several of the best known artists of the nation who will visit the mile high city as "Guest Instructors."

The Denver College of Music and the Lamont School of Music, with the cooperation of Frederick G. Bonfils, local publisher, are sponsoring the move. Students will be selected on a competitive basis, the contest to sort out 28 of the most deserving young folks between the ages of 16 and 25 who will recieve the scholarships for six weeks courses.

Among the artists who will give the instruction are Percy Rector Stephens, John Powell, Charles T. H. Jones, Florence Lamont Hinman, Lazar Samoiloff, Frederick Tillotson and Andrew Kostalanetz.

Application for entrance into the contest is not limited to any particular territory. Any student between the specified ages may enter, but in order to compete actively, he must be in Denver on June 29 and 30, on which days the tryouts will be conducted.

King Of Spain Gets Moose As Souvenir

(International News Service)

STOCKHOLM, May 24.—As a souvenir of his moose hunt in Sweden last fall, King Alfonso of Spain will soon receive from his host, King Gustaf, a stately mounted bull moose having 11 prongs in his antlers. It is one of the animals brought down by the royal hunters at the Hunneberg preserves in the province of Vestergotland. The mounting has been done at the National Museum in Stockholm and after being temporarily displayed at the royal palace in Madrid will be transferred to the Spanish university museum for permanent exhibition.

Umbrella Makers Fight Budapest Tax

(International News Service)

BUDAPEST, May 24.—Umbrella-makers in this little country are up in arms over the recent proposals to include the useful objects among those liable to a luxury tax. Twelve years ago 570,000 of the umbrellas used in Hungary were imported from foreign countries.

This number has now fallen to 13,000, which means that the makers are now able to provide 95 per cent of the rain or sun protectors used in the country.

Plan Twilight Musicals Here

First Program Will Be Presented In Cathedral On Sunday Afternoon

NEW IDEA TO BE TRIED THIS SUMMER

Manager Herbert Pears of the Cathedral is planning an innovation for music lovers in the city during the coming summer season, when a series of twilight musicals to be held each Sunday afternoon will be held.

The first of these will be held on the coming Sunday, May 26, at 4 o'clock, with Elias Breeskin, violinist; and Miss Rebecca Garvin, contralto, as the artists.

Mr. Breeskin is conductor of the Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra and Loew's Penn Theater Orchestra of Pittsburgh, and is widely known in the local district. Miss Garvin, of course, needs no introduction to local people, having been one of the prominent soloists of the city for some time.

Mr. Breeskin has established his reputation as a violin virtuoso and musician of note throughout America. Critics have ranked him among the really great violinists of the day, and he has made himself beloved throughout the Pittsburgh district.

It is through the courtesy of Mr. Breeskin, Miss Garvin, Paul Brown Patterson and Lois Miller, that Sunday's recital has been made possible and it is believed that a large crowd will greet their appearance in the Cathedral.

The program to be rendered follows;

Elias Breeskin, Violinist
Lois Miller, Accompanist
a. Caprice Viennese—Kriesler
b. A Wild Rose—MacDowell
c. Melody—Dawes
d. Spanish Dance—Sarasatee

Rebecca Garvin, Contralto
Paul Brown Patterson, Accompanist
a. The Cry of Rachael—Mary Zurner Salter
b. Alliaeulia—Mozart

Elias Breeskin, Violinist
a. Ave Maria—Schubert
b. Hungarian Fantasy—Hubay.

Thrift Awards At Ben Franklin High

Many Pupils Are Awarded Honors At Ceremonies On Thursday

The thriftiest grade in the Benjamin Franklin Junior high school was grade 7A-5 of which Mrs. Lenora McGaffic is the teacher, and this grade achieved the enviable record this year of being a 100 per cent grade which means that every student deposited at least on coin every week in the automatic receiving teller. Mrs. McGaffic has in the past done outstanding work in thrift and this is not the first 100 per cent certificate that her grades have received.

Grade 9B-1 was second, 8A-8 was third, 9A-3 was fourth and 8A-5 was 6th.

The thrift program was in charge of Miss Nana Jenkins, the teacher who has charge of the thrift instructions in the Benjamin Franklin Junior high school, and the thrift exercises were very good and a large number of awards—numbering over three hundred—were presented to the students by Robert M. Strickler, Jr. in behalf of the Lawrence Savings and Trust company.

The following are part of the awards presented:

Thrift diplomas with three stars for seven years—Alberta Gilroy of grade 9B-1; Fred Black of grade 8A-2; Lester Coryea of grade 8A-6; Gertrude Shaffer of grade 8B-1; Wilhelmina Wonner, Jean Kennedy and Loyal Kerr of grade 8B-2; Katie Kulick of grade 8B-4; Billie Schoenfeld of grade 7A-2; Thelma Greer of grade 7A-5; Emma Barrea of grade 7A-7; Mary Ellen Lally of grade 7A-8.

Make Soil Tests In Crop Rotation At Institutions

HARISBURG, May 24.— Under the plan of a detailed soil survey instituted last year for farming possibilities in State owned institutions, experts of the Agronomy Department of Pennsylvania State College will continue the survey this year and expect to complete it next year, according to plans announced by Mrs. E. S. H. McCauley, State Secretary of Welfare.

The plan as worked out by R. Bruce Dunlap, agriculturalist of the Welfare Department, is one of the most extensive ever undertaken for a similar enterprise. Charts of the fields at the institutions are made and kept and the planting of all crops recorded faithfully with the kinds of fertilizer used. This system permits accurate rotation of the crops and the planting best suited to the type of ground is considered, with careful notation as to the amount of lime in the soil or needed to be added for results desired.

The needs of the institutions such as feed for the livestock and food for the inmates, govern the rotation of the corps. At the end of each year, an estimate is prepared for the following year of the probably needs of the institution and the fields planned accordingly.

The federal jurist proceeded to reprimand the witness sharply, telling the man to "buy yourself a dime necktie and a coat. If you can't raise the money for the tie, I'll get it for you."

Vacant Lots In Detroit Offer Parking Space

Are Veritable Mints To Owners, Who Remove Ramshackle Buildings

VALUABLE LAND IS USED FOR PURPOSE

By BURL A. ELY
International News Service Staff Correspondent

DETROIT, May 24.—A birdseye view of Detroit reveals it as a "city of parking lots".

Within the shadow of queenly, tall, modern skyscrapers, and especially huddled about theaters, are these patches of ground—some of them in the heart of valuable downtown property—where thousands of business men, shoppers and theatergoers park their cars daily.

In their way they are conveniences for from 35 to 50 cents a car can be parked for eight hours without worry to its owner and without throwing him into a pit of exasperation by spending time jerking miserably up one traffic-crowded street and down another seeking a parking place.

Veritable Mints

These parking lots are veritable mints. Usually they are pieces of ground laid bare of shabby unrentable structures.

It is estimated that there is a total of more than 1,000,000 square feet of land in Detroit so utilized—land running into millions of dollars in value. Some of these properties are valued at from $50 per square foot to $10,000 per square foot.

Probably the largest individual parking lot has about 50,000 square feet— more than 400 cars parking capacity. In the downtown district the parking lot storage capacity totals at least 10,000 cars, according to one real estate dealer.

Important Asset

Real estate dealers recognize the parking lot as tremendously important to the real estate business. It serves as a "fill-in" during the transition from disreputable to improved property. It is admittedly more profitable than if a drab, wobbly eyesore structure were left standing awaiting rental or improvement. At their best, real estate dealers say, such buildings would be rented for illegitimate business only, speakeasies, "blind pigs" and the like.

An indication of how profitable the parking lot business is to its owner may be seen from a confidential assertion by one of the big parking lot operators that he did more than a half million dollar business in 1928.

WHITE EGYPT DONKEY IS LAWN MOWER POWER

(International News Service)

SWAMPSCOTT, Mass., May 24.—One of the queerst sights in this section and one which gives many visitors a hearty laugh is the 27-year-old white Egyptian donkey which draws a lawn mower over the estate of William A. Paine in this town.

The animal was brought from Egypt for the amusement of children but as the children outgrew the donkey he was used to provide the motive power over the large lawn on the Paine estate.

The tradition that it always rains on Decoration Day probably will fail this year, all the moisture available having been previously used.—The Lansing Journal.

Roastin' ears are those long green things in the foot of the car as the tourist gives her the gas to outrun buckshot.

Junk the Junk

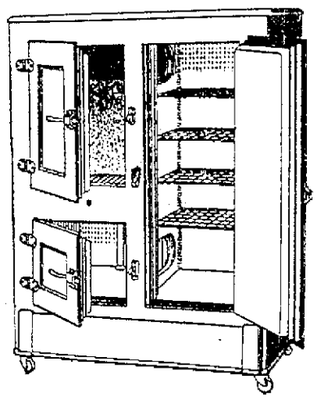

HOW about the spring clean-up, ladies? Now's the time for it. The winter's accumulation of refuse piles, old rags, old papers, boxes and inflammable material of all kinds should be sent on its way with the approach of spring. Remember, there's a fire somewhere in the United States every minute of the day. They occur in many homes—but seldom in the ones where fire hazards are outlawed. Either burn up the surplus material (and watch it while it burns) or have it carted away. At any rate "Junk the junk" and do it now, urges the National Safety Council.

The Story Of The World War

GERMAN REPRISALS AT LOUVAIN, BELGIUM, ON AUGUST 25, 26, 27, 1914, SHOWED WAR AT ITS WORST. GERMAN TROOPS, MARCHING ON BRUSSELS, OCCUPIED LOUVAIN, A HISTORIC CITY 15 MILES EAST OF THE BELGIAN CAPITAL ON AUGUST 19TH. A BODY OF TROOPS WAS LEFT TO HOLD THE CITY WHILE THE REST PUSHED ON TOWARD BRUSSELS.

ACCORDING TO THE GERMAN ACCOUNT, ON THE NIGHT OF AUGUST 25, ARMED CIVILIANS BEGAN SHOOTING AT GERMAN SOLDIERS FROM THE HOUSES. THE BELGIANS DENY THIS, AND INSIST THAT THE GERMANS FIRED UPON THEIR OWN MEN IN THE DARK, AND BLAMED IT ON THE CIVILIANS TO COVER THEIR CARELESSNESS.

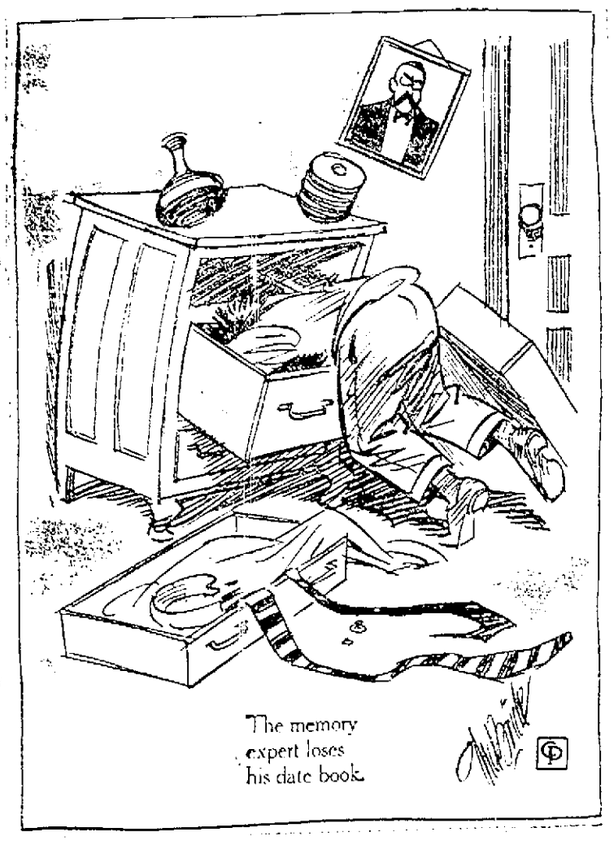

WHICHEVER VERSION IS CORRECT, THE INVADERS RESORTED TO BRUTALLY DRASTIC REPRISALS. HOUSES BELIEVED TO HARBOR CIVILIAN "SNIPERS" WERE BROKEN INTO AND BURNED, AND SUSPECTS FOUND IN THEM WERE SUMMARILY EXECUTED. PROMINENT CITIZENS WERE SEIZED AS HOSTAGES, AND MANY OTHERS DEPORTED TO GERMANY. TWO HUNDRED TOWNSPEOPLE WERE KILLED BY GERMAN BULLETS.

THE FAMOUS LIBRARY OF THE UNIVERSITY OF LOUVAIN, THE CHURCH OF ST. PIERRE AND OTHER BEAUTIFUL EDIFICES WERE DESTROYED BY FIRE. FINALLY THE ENTIRE POPULATION (40,000 PEOPLE) WAS EXPELLED FROM LOUVAIN AND GERMAN BATTERIES SHELLED THE CITY

Weygant And Romeo Will Furnish Action

Hot Interest Is Shown In Coming Bout For Local Featherweight Championship. O'Dowd And O'Leary Head Good Card To Be Staged Monday Night At Jolly Bowl.

By ED FRITZ

Fans who thought the Midget Wolgast-Willie Davies ten round boxing bout a classic for action and science will see another such bout Monday night when Eddie O'Dowd, Columbus, meets Dick O'Leary, Cleveland, in a 10 round setto at Jolly Bowl.

The coming fistic battle however will be different from the Davies-Wolgast battle in one respect as O'Leary and O'Dowd carry potent powder in their gloves which the two flyweights lacked. Only recently O'Leary pounded a foe to sleep at the bowl.

O'Dowd has fought all of the top-notchers in the boxing game and is credited with having romped ten rounds with Bushy Graham of Albany. O'Leary has been trotting the country meeting the best and giving a grand display of science and punch.

O'Dowd and O'Leary are rivals. They have outgrown the bantamweight class and now weigh 124 pounds. Being in Ohio they naturally are after whatever ring honors they can pluck as it is only in the wake of ring honor that the resultant money is found.

The writer has liked O'Leary's fighting for years. And he has also watched O'Dowd in action. Both are pleasing boys who know what it is all about. They are finished fighters, smart, cagey and apt to end the bout at any moment with a soporific.

They will arrive here Sunday, finish training at the Jimmie Dime gymnasium during the afternoon and will crawl into the ring Monday night, trained to perfection and ready for what may come—a battle of punch and brains as it is the little fellows who fight all the time.

Eddie Weygant hopes to re-establish himself as the best featherweight in the city and the only way he can is by stretching Romeo Pacelli for a decision or a knockout. But can he? "No" says Pacelli. "Yes I can" declares Weygant.

Eddie carries a terrific wallop in his right hand. It is not delivered as neatly as Romeo produces knockouts. Pacelli's left to the face is like the tongue of a snake while Weygant's left hook is as powerful as a pile-driver.

The fans are taking sides in this setto and it will be interesting. Someone is going to be beaten down. It will be a test of courage and stamina coupled to ringcraft and punch accuracy. It ought to be a bout in which the fans will be satisfied.

Joe Midway, husky Pole who hasn't fought here in some time will fight Cliff Becker of Jamestown, N. Y., reputed a tough, willing, slambang middleweight. Joe was beaten when he fought Henry Firpo but he hopes to comeback when he tackles Becker.

Tommy Hellman, Monessen, and Young Corsey, Canton, will clash in a four rounder. Hellman is good. Corsey battled Johnny Jennings. They will weigh 132 pounds. Vito Mazeo, Cleveland, and Tony Icone, the local bantamweight will open the show at 9 o'clock.

Owing to numerous objections to the bouts being started so early Promoter Jolly changed the time from 8:30 p. m. to 9 last time and it is probable that a large crowd will turn out to see the show, which will be good throughout it is indicated.

Slovak A. C. Win Exhibition Game

Tony Richards took his Slovak A. C. baseball team of the Lawrence county league to Bessemer on Thursday night for an exhibition game and brought back a 7 to 3 victory in a well played game.

The Slovaks drove Nord to the showers in the second frame by chasing over five runs and clinching the victory. The Bessemer team chased Lazar in the third on three singles and a double. Mehalic relieved Lazar and held the Bessemerites in check. Mash was the big hero of the game. This youngster had a single, triple with two on and stole home. Jacobson was the best hitter for the Bessemer team. Both teams had three errors.

O'Rourke Finds Niche In Big League At 38

By JACK SORDS
Sports Cartoonist Writer for Central Press.

In the sunset of his career, Frank O'Rourke, now 38, has become first string third baseman of the St. Louis Browns after having played with 12 big and minor league clubs. He has toiled long and hard for the chance, and if he now happens to be on a pennant-winner (this is not so unlikely as you may think), he deserves his good luck.

While most players at 38 are sliding fast or already out of the big time, and, perhaps, all baseball, O'Rourke is being held up by Manager Dan Howley of the Browns as one reason why the St. Louis outfit has made such a fine showing to date.

O'Rourke broke into organized ball with Bridgeport of the Connecticut league in 1912. That year he was sold to the Boston Nationals, who traded him to Buffalo in 1913. From there he went to Wilkes-Barre, Pa., and then returned to the Braves. Boston sent him back to Wilkes-Barre in 1914, from which club Brooklyn obtained him. Five clubs in three years and his traveling, nomadic baseball career had just begun!

Let go by the Brooklyns in 1916, O'Rourke played with Birmingham, Ala.; Utica, N. Y.; New London, Conn.; Binghamton, N. Y., and Toronto, Canada. Washington obtained him from Toronto in 1920, but early in 1922 the Senators traded Frank to the Boston Americans along with Joe Dugan for Roger Peckinpaugh.

The Red Sox had little use for him and he was soon shifted once more back to Toronto, where he starred and was brought from the Maple Leaf by Detroit.

The Tigers traded him after a spell to St. Louis in 1927 for Marty McManus. And there he has stuck.

Out of the game a few weeks last season due to a broken thumb, O'Rourke came back to the Browns' lineup and since then has shown a lot of younger big league third basemen how to handle the hot corner.

Illinois And Iowa Favored To Win Honors In Big Ten Conference Meet

(International News Service)

EVANSTON, Ill., May 24.—Three hundred and twenty-five athletes were on hand for the preliminaries this afternoon in eleven of the sixteen events of the annual track and field championships of the western conference.

Finals will be staged tomorrow afternoon in Dyche stadium of Northwestern university.

Illinois, Big Ten winner last year, and Iowa were favorites to carry off honors.

Ohio State also was considered in the cunning, with George Simpson, sprinter, as its ace.

Several records were expected to fall in the competition with Simpson of Ohio State in the dashes; Dave Abbott of Illinois, and Gordon, Iowa's negro star, in the jumps; Tom Warne of Northwestern in the pole vault; Orval Martin of Purdue in the middle distances, and Virgil Gist of Chicago in the half mile.

Lawrence County League Doings

There is but one game on tap in the Lawrence county league for Saturday. The Slovak A. C. will meet the Italian A. A. at Centennial field. The game will start at 3 o'clock daylight savings time. The Italians are waging a hot fight for the flag in the Lawrence county league and they hope to subdue the Slovaks. It should be an interesting battle. McCann and Nolte have been assigned to handle the game.

AMATEUR BASEBALL

Athletics Have Batting Punch

Connie Mack Looks For Athletics To Be In Money Position This Year

By LES CONKLIN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, May 24.—The Philadelphia Athletics, who have been mowing down their opponents with a machine-like precision reminiscent of the great team which Connie Mack tore apart fifteen years ago, can eclipse the recent eight-game winning streak of the Yankees by beating Washington today. Their double whipver the Nats yesterday marked the A's eighth consecutive victory and placed them three games in front of the St. Louis Browns, who split a double bill with Cleveland.

The Mackmen came from behind to win both of their dogfights with the Senators yesterday, overcoming an eight-run lead in the opener. The score in each game was 9 to 8. Bing Miller's homer won the first game. Six of the Athletics' eight straight wins were scored at Washington's expense.

Ruth Hits Eighth

After apparently kicking away the game by making five errors, the Yankees nosed out the Red Sox in the ninth, 7 to 6.

Babe Ruth pulled his hit-and-walk play for the eighth time this season and is now only one down to brother Gehrig.

All of the American League games were closely contested. Cleveland trimmed St. Louis in the twelfth, 5 to 4, and second four runs in the ninth inning of the nightcap, but lost 7 to 6.

Leather-lunged St. Louis rooters, to the accompaniment of a cowbell sonata, enjoyed a perfect afternoon as the champion Cardinals set down the pretenders from Chicago, 6 to 3, with Clarence Mitchell holding Rogers Hornsby, former Red Bird manager, hitless.

The Giants "Robots" came to life and swamped Boston, 11 to 4. The New Yorkers clouted seven successive singles before a man was out in the eighth inning, when they scored seven runs. The Braves had no luck against "no hit" Hubbell.

Pittsburgh's 6 to 3 win over the Reds marked the seventh straight victory over the undefeated Burleigh Grimes, and the seventh consecutive defeat for Cincinnati. A triple in the seventh by "Little Poison" Waner, with two runners on the sacks, broke up the party.

Other teams did not play.

Melder In Form, Allows Two Hits

Johnny Melder, the pitching ace of the Central Presbyterians hurled a brilliant two-hit game, at the Mahoning field on Thursday night, and the Presbyterians took a 6 to 0 victory over the Mahoning M. E. team. Melder fanned nine men and issued but one walk. The Presbyterians gave the clever youngster fine support. Mahoning had four errors behind Robinson. Melder besides pitching a great game, had a double and single to his credit. Shoaf, Fraser, Gilmore and Moore had doubles.

Tri-State Conference Meet Memorial Day

With two victories and one defeat in dual meets, Westminster's varsity track team is pointing to the tri-state conference games to be held at Beaver Falls on Memorial Day.

Carnegie Tech, cancelled the dual meet with the U. P. team, scheduled for this afternoon in Pittsburgh, so the blue and white cinder path and field men have but the conference championships remaining.

Westminster should finish well up in front in the conference meet. Geneva will hardly take the distance runs with Pesci of Duquesne entered in both the mile and the two mile. Schnellenback of Duquesne and Morris of Bethany should be among the leaders in the sprints. In the field events, the outcome of the conference will be about the same as the outcome of the Geneva-Westminster meet Wednesday.

If Westminster is in form next Thursday afternoon and if the men are as consistent as they have been all season, Geneva will find itself pushed to the limit to garner sufficient points to win out. Duquesne, Bethany, Geneva and Westminster all have well-balanced teams, so that the winners of a few first places together with sufficient seconds and thirds should be the conference leader.

Westminster should win out in the high jump, hammer, discus, quarter, 100-yard, high hurdles, low hurdles, and should be among the best in the mile relay. This should bring the league leadership to the United Presbyterians or at least a close second.

Demarco Wins Nod Over Brignolia In Braddock's Bowl

Steve Smith Loses To Benny Bass In Main Go; Brignolia Puts Up Fine Battle

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, May 24. — Larry Brignolia, Erie welterweight, lost an eight round go to Johnny DeMarco, battle-scarred Philadelphia welter, here last night principally because the wily Mr. DeMarco "put on an act" that kept Brignolia puzzled for five rounds while DeMarco hung up a safe margin.

Brignolia, bent seriously on winning a fight, was apparently amused, amazed and astounded (in that order) by the tactics that DeMarco displayed. For five rounds he tried to figure out what sort of fellow he had been called on to fight. Then he decided it made no difference. He might as well win the go anyway. But by the time he made his decision, DeMarco had a five round advantage.

The Erie puncher had little chance to show his wares against DeMarco's style. He copped the last three frames but by that time it was too late and he lost the decision although when he got on his bike he showed the customers that he could sock and sock well, almost ruining the Philadelphian's record of never having been knocked off his feet.

In the main event, which opened Western Pennsylvania's only outdoor arena, Benny Bass, Philadelphia feather, took a 10 round go from Steve Smith, of Bridgeport, Conn.

British Press Attacks Hagen

British Press Claims That Walter Hagen Ran Out Of Match With Compston

By DAVIS J. WALSH
Sports Editor International News Service

NEW YORK, May 24.—Life simply was too tranquil. It was like a hobnailed boot trying to ride to work on the wing of a humming bird. It couldn't last. One American had taken the British open golf championship; another had made a fool of his field in the French event. Yet they loved us for ourselves alone and the very air was rife with beautiful thoughts.

It all was just too sweet for words and professional optimists sang paens of praise and devoutly prayed that they could make it last forever henceforth. Happily, they couldn't and didn't for things seemed more natural today. Walter Hagen and the British are at it again.

Hagen, ever an affront to the British eye, stands charged today with taking what is elegantly known as a run-out on his scheduled match with Archie Compston at Moore Park late this week. The charges leveled not only by the British press but by Compston himself, who seems to have forgotten that marriages and international golf were made in heaven or something. Anyhow, he very pointedly insinuates that Hagen "is crying off," whatever that is, in an article under his signature in the Evening Standard.

"I imagine," says he, "that he (Hagen) must be feeling badly off color if he wants to withdraw from our two big matches, for I thought he was just as keen on the chance of getting his revenge at Moore Park as I was on letting him have it."

Grimes Wins His Seventh Victory

Burleigh Grimes Pitches Pirates To Seventh Win; Reds Downed 6 To 3

FORBES FIELD, PITTSBURGH, Pa., May 24.—Burleigh Grimes, hung up his seventh victory of the season yesterday at the local ball orchard, and defeated the Cincinnati Reds 6 to 3, with the Pirates playing a fine brand of baseball.

The former Dodge hurler had the Reds eating out of his hand, as he spitballed them to death. Only seven hits were recorded for the Redlegs.

Lloyd Waner was the big swatting hero of the Oakland victory, the Oklahoma speed boy batting in three of the runs, and had a triple and single to his credit. Dicky Bartell also hit timely.

Test Shows Women Are Introverts

(International News Service)

BOSTON, May 24.—Women students at Boston University are "introverts and brooders" who turn their minds upon themselves for introspection, while the men students are extroverts, taking things as they come, looking on the world as something to be observed and handled as they see fit, according to Dr. Wayland F. Vaughn, professor of psychology at the Boston University college of liberal arts.

Professor Vaughn made a series of tests among the 125 students in his classes. The result of his tests showed 65 per cent of the women were "introverts".

The Reigning Roque Champion

By QUIN HALL.

Followers of roque take their sport just as seriously as do baseball bugs or golf goofers.

And this game—it's mainly the old sport of croquet which has been glorified—has a host of followers throughout the United States. They hold championship tournaments semi-annually with the winter meet at St. Petersburg, Fla. This year—sometime in August—the summer tournament will be held at Winona Lake, Ind.

The reigning roque champion is Ervin Locke of St. Petersburg. Being at St. Pete in March with the ball clubs, your ambling correspondent wandered to the roque courts near Mirror Lake—the courts occupy a wide space on grounds which are beautifully landscaped. There he found Ervin Locke.

Locke is a modest fellow who dislikes to talk about his ability. "There are to few people interested in the sport to make a roque champion a very important figure" he said.

As we talked we wer watching some pretty responsible looking citizens busily engaged in figuring angles on the courts.

The present champion didn't take up the game until five years ago when he went to Florida for his health. He won the title in the winter of '27-'28 and repeated again last winter. He was born at Paulsboro N. Y. in 1888 ad spent his boyhood days there. Since 1926 he has won 16 trophies.

Locke is now a building contractor and his hobby is building roque courts. They are built of marl and sunk, leaving a low ledge as the boundaries. Experts figure their shots on angles similar to billiards. The arches being only a trifle wider than the balls the game is exceedingly more difficult than croquet.

"More people would be interested in roque" says its master player "of they realized how really interesting the game is."

Chicago Fans Already Sitting Back To Await World Series

By NORMAN E. BROWN
Central Press Sports Writer.

CHICAGO, May 23.—While enthusiastic Cub rooters look forward to the home stay of Joe McCarthy's pennant prospects, White Sox fans here, who have seen all the American league teams in action, have just about settled down to wait for the world's series between the Yankees and Cubs.

For after seeing all the American league teams, the consensus of opinion hereabouts seems to be that the American league clubs have already found their level—and will wind up the season about as they stand today.

After looking over a few of the teams here and talking with the followers of the other clubs this seems to be about the situation:

The New York Yankees still have the hitting strength sufficient to carry them through to another pennant. This despite the failure of Pennock to round into form and a general uncertainty in the pitching.

The Athletics, seemingly a demoralized outfit during the spring training season, have produced better hitting than was anticipated and this has given the entire club a better morale.

The Browns, despite the feeling that they could not hold the pace set last year, have fooled the critics. Dan Howley has molded together a good infield—one of the prime essentials of a pennant contender, hitting or no hitting. He still lacks, however, attacking power sufficient to carry him past the Yanks and Mackmen.

The Detroit Tigers should hold first division as long as Harris directs his team from the field, and gets the pitching he has worked out to date.

Washington is the one club that should threaten to oust one of these teams from the first four. The Senators shouldn't be trailing in the bottom bracket. Just what effect the absence of Walter Johnson will have remains to be seen. It will at least force Clark Griffith to take a more active part in the management of the club on the field. The team's infield is still undergoing various shifts in what has been a vain effort to date to strengthen it.

The Cleveland club is exhibiting the rottenest fielding a Cleveland entry has produced in many a year. The pitching is erratic and the team is just as erratic behind it.

The Boston Red Sox have good pitching and the team is approaching some sort of a permanent nature. Carrigan's club still lacks power, however.

The Chicago White Sox outfit can go any place from the bottom to first division. It has the potential pitching strength. Willie Kamm is playing a great game afield and hitting well. Bill Clancy, at first base, is proving to be a star. The team is demoralized, however. And what is worse, is being ridden hard at this early date by the home fans.

Farmer Says Man Stole Wheat Crop

SHAMOKIN, Pa., May 24.—Francis Bastress, who has been charged with stealing one-half mile of railroad track; dismantling a coal company washery and selling the lumber; dismantling another small building and selling the materials at an impromptu auction sale, today was arrested for stealing an entire wheat crop.

The charges against Bastress were made by C. C. Fox, of Mt. Carmel, who claims that Bastess stole his entire crop of several hundred bushels of wheat from a barn near Stoningtton, and hauled it away.

The wheat has not been recovered.

A few months ago Bastress was arrested on a charge of tearing up one-half mile of railroad track on an abandoned line and attempting to sell the rails. He was next arrested on a charge of tearing down the washery at an abandoned coal mine and selling the materials, and next of dismantling and selling the materials from another abandoned building.

None of the cases against Bastress has been settled.

Rent Vs. Home Ownership

A New Castle man had a chance of investing a sum of money with which he could have made a nice profit but was unable to negotiate a loan. He did not own property and was unable to give security. Another man was given the same opportunity. He placed a mortgage on his home, invested the money and made a handsome profit.

A man paying rent cannot place a mortgage on his landlord's property. Now is the time to start buying a home. Several attractive homes are advertised in the classified columns at very low prices. Consult the "Homes For Sale" column and get started on the road to independence. Buy now. Due to the backward Spring you will have plenty of time to get your garden started.

NEW YORK STOCKS

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 24.—In mild and moderate fashion, and without the usual hilarious display of market fireworks; Wall Street celebrated the holding down of Reserve bank rediscount rates to 5 per cent this morning. For the first time in a few months at least, it was brought home to the financial district that there are other matters more important than the great and mighty stock market in determining the trend of important events. The Reserve board refused to sanction higher bank rates because the heavy volume of new financing in its opinion outweighed stock market speculation as a money market factor.

Prices of the active industrial stocks rose a point or two in the first hour, but traders who bought stocks near the end of yesterday's market were ready to sell them at moderate profits to anyone who wanted to buy.

Selling pressure on the motor stocks was promptly renewed, to the accompaniment of reports of increased difficulties in marketing cars. General Motors and Chrysler gained a point or so at the start, but fell back in the second hour to Thursday's closing level.

The same was true of a number of the high priced pool pets which have been whirled around the market at a dizzy pace in recent weeks. The steel stocks refused to move on the strength of the optimistic surveys by the members of the steel institute in annual session here and few of the soppers made any headway. Oils were active and firm, under the lead of Pan American.

The call loan rate was 5 per cent, with money offered in the outside market over the week-end at 5 per cent.
